House Devises $1,200,000,000 Cut In Budget

Tentative Slices Listed In Funds Sought By Truman

WASHINGTON, March 16 —(AP)—The House appropriations committee has tentatively worked out a $1,200,000,000 cut in President Truman's spending proposals for the 12 months beginning next July 1.

The committee has not formally taken final action, but it was learned a "central committee" has recommended the cut.

The committee is working on an omnibus bill embracing items for which Mr. Truman asked $30,326,000,000.

Members of the committee said these have been trimmed to roughly $29,113,000,000.

The President's overall budget requests for the fiscal year starting next July 1 were $42,439,000,000. This included approximately $3,000,000,000 for Marshall plan foreign aid and $59,000,000,000 in so-called permanent appropriations and trust funds.

These two items are dealt with in the omnibus bill.

The foreign-aid money is not included because separate legislation legalizing it has not cleared Congress. The so-called permanent appropriations are not subject to cuts. They include such things as interest on the public debt..

The "central committee" recommendations will be presented to the full committee next Monday. The following week the omnibus bill is scheduled to go before the House for debate. It will be the first time in modern history that Congress has wrapped up all departmental funds in a single bill.

The appropriations group has recommended no huge cuts in any departmental funds, although a sizeable percentage reduction has been ordered for the so-called "civil functions" of the army engineers. These civil functions include river and harbor and flood control projects.

Committee members gave these figures on tentative committee action:

Defense department: Requested $13,028,000,000, granted $12,839,000,000.

Treasury department: Requested $2,812,000,000, granted $2,753,000,000.

Independent offices, including Veterans Administration and Atomic Energy Commission: Requested $8,458,000,000, granted $8,024,000,000.

Agriculture department: Requested $799,000,000, granted $764,000,000.

Labor department and federal security agency: Requested $2,462,000,000, granted $2,271,000,000.

Army engineers' civil functions: Requested: $834,000,000, granted $675,000,000.

Interior department: Requested $669,000,000, granted $621,000,000.

Legislative department: Requested $65,000,000, granted $56,000,000.

State, Justice and Commerce departments: Requested $1,184,000,000, granted $1,110,000,000.

Appeals Court Delays N. B. O. P. Pay Ruling

LISBON, March 16—An appellate court ruling in the lengthy legal battle over wages of the top officials on the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters was deferred today following a four-hour hearing on the matter Wednesday afternoon.

Judges L. E. Skeel and J. S. Hurd of Cleveland and A. W. Doyle of Akron, visiting jurists assigned here to hear the appeal from a common pleas court ruling, poured over several hundred pages of records and exhibits in the case and expect to hand down their decision before returning to their respective districts.

UMW Accused By Illinois Miner

Says Union Ousted Him During Strike

CHICAGO, March 16—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board has been asked to investigate a charge by a soft coal miner that he was fined $50,000 by the United Mine Workers and lost his job for attempting to lead a back to work movement during the recent coal strike.

Lloyd H. Sidener, 44, ousted president of a UMW local at Canton, Ill., and a shovel engineer at the Buck Heart Mine for 13 years, filed the complaint with the NLRB yesterday. He charged the UMW and the mine owner, the United Electric Coal Companies, discriminated against him in violation of the law.

Sidener said other officials of the UMW Local 455 and striking miners had banned him from returning to work Feb. 24 in compliance with the federal injunction order of Feb. 11 directing the miners to return to their jobs. He said he and about 130 other miners attempted to resume work on the day shift but were turned back by miners who formed a picket line.

The $50,000 fine was levied against him, Sidener said, by the local at a meeting March 7. He attempted to return to work on March 13, Sidener related, but a group of miners and mine officials halted him.

At Canton, a union officer who declined use of his name, said Sidener was fired as president of the local on charges that he attempted to form a rival union while holding UMW office.

Lisbon Board Votes To Build New School

LISBON, March 16—Meeting with Architect Walter H. Frost of Youngstown Wednesday night, the Lisbon school board voted to build a new one-story eight-room elementary school on the site of the burned-out McKinley School.

Frost told the group that his engineers have recommended that the old McKinley structure be completely razed, which the board then voted to do.

The new building will be L-shaped and will house six classrooms, a kindergarten and an all-purpose room. The board voted to have larger classrooms, which will necessitate revamping of Frost's original plans. The new plans for the building will be submitted next week.

Navy Slaps Crommelin

Critical Captain Put On Half-Pay Furlough

WASHINGTON, March 16—(AP)—The Navy has decided to punish Capt. John G. Crommelin, persistent critic of Pentagon policies—by furloughing him indefinitely at half-pay instead of trying him in a court martial.

The action amounts to his involuntary retirement at the age of 47, and Crommelin blamed it on the Army and Air Force general staffs. He has been blaming them all along for what he called a serious weakening of the Navy in the Army-Air Force-Navy unification setup.

Secretary of the Navy Matthews announced the punishment last night, effective April 1. A Navy spokesman said it was for "continued actions prejudicial to the service."

Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, Chief of Naval Operations, sent orders to Crommelin on Feb. 21 to stop publicly criticizing the organization or officials of the Defense department or any officer or group of officers.

In speeches and interviews since then, the Navy flier continued to hit the "Prussianized general staff" idea, contending that the American joint chiefs of staff system leans toward the overall military command setup of Germany.

Crommelin said also in an interview on March 7 that the Army and the Air Force were trying to kill the Marine corps.

More than 20 years of Navy service, plus credit for combat decorations, make the fiery captain eligible for retirement at three-quarters pay if he prefers to take that step.

But Crommelin ruled out retirement in a press conference held at San Francisco after the Navy announced the furlough order.

"I have no intention of quitting or retiring from the Navy," he said.

Service's Recall From India Alerts Senator

Hickenlooper Sees Import In State Department Order

WASHINGTON, March 16 —(AP) — The State Department's sudden summoning of John S. Service from India for a review of his loyalty record was termed "a very significant and startling development" by Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) today.

The Department's decision yesterday came only 24 hours after Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) had accused Service, American consul at Calcutta, of having Communist affiliations.

McCarthy made his charges before a Senate foreign relations subcommittee which is investigating his contentions that the State Department harbors Communists and Communist sympathizers.

Hickenlooper, a member of the committee, told reporters it seems strange to him that the Department first said it knew nothing about one of McCarthy's accusations dealing with Service, and then "apparently reversed its field."

The Iowa lawmaker was referring to McCarthy's testimony that Service had been cleared by the Department's own loyalty board, but that a U. S. Civil Service loyalty board fired his case back and recommended that the same Department board be barred from judging the case again.

Shortly after McCarthy testified, the Department said it had not received any such information or request from the review board.

In announcing yesterday that Service is being brought home, the Department said the action was taken on recommendation of the Civil Service Review board. But it said the board's request was not received until 3:50 p. m. EST, Tuesday—about five hours after McCarthy testified.

The Review board, in recommending recall of Service from India, said the State Department's own previous investigation of the veteran diplomatic officer should have included his personal appearance before the panel.

Lincoln White, Department press officer, said the Review board's recommendation does not mean Service is "under a new suspicion." He added that apparently the board feels Service should have an opportunity to speak for himself.

Fleckner Believes Locker System Legal

EAST LIVERPOOL, March 16 —Oscar L. Fleckner told the Columbiana County Tavern Owners Association last night in his opinion "the Simon-pure locker system is not illegal."

Questioned about the current "freeze" on some styles of permits, the state liquor director said the board of liquor control is considering a complete revision of its regulations.

He coupled an appeal for cooperation from tavern owners with a warning that "we know there are taverns in the county that remain open after hours and we expect to reach some of them."

"We don't do a good job and we know it," he told the audience of 80 at the Association's banquet, "but there are only 100 enforcement agents in the field." He said no more will be hired "while I'm in charge."

Big Mo Trials Ordered

NORFOLK, Va., March 16 —(AP) — General courts martial were ordered today for the commanding officer, the operations officer and the navigator of the battleship Missouri as a result of the vessel's grounding in Chesapeake Bay, January 17.

The officers to be tried are Capt. William D. Brown, of Frostproof, Fla., the Big Mo's skipper; Comdr. John R. Millett, operations officer, and Lt. Comdr. Frank G. Morris, of New York, navigator.

The courts martial will be convened March 27 at the Norfolk Naval base. The trials will begin at that time, Naval spokesmen said, if the defendants are ready to proceed. All proceedings will be open to the public and the press.

Judith Coplon Free On $40,000 Bail

NEW YORK, March 16—(AP) — Judith Coplon was free on $40,000 bail today pending appeal of her spy conspiracy conviction.

But the way was not yet clear for her to cross the East river from Manhattan to her family's home in Brooklyn.

The court order fixing bail under which she was relased late yesterday, forbade her to leave the federal southern district of New York, which does not include Brooklyn.

She was reported to have spent the night with friends in Manhattan. Her lawyer was to apply today for permission for her to go to Brooklyn.

Miss Coplon, 28-year-old former Department of Justice employe, had been in the women's house of detention since March 7.

That was the day she and Valentin A. Gubitchev, 33-year-old Russian engineer, were convicted of espionage. Each drew a 15-year prison term.

Gubitchev, still in jail, is scheduled to receive a suspended sentence next Monday and to be put on a boat enroute home to Russia.

Middle Income Housing Plan Cut From Bill

Defeated In Senate, Issue Now In House; Bricker Leads Defeat

WASHINGTON, March 16 —(AP)—A bitter Senate defeat left the fate of President Truman's middle-income housing program squarely in the hands of the House today.

The Senate chopped the entire program out of a catch-all housing bill late yesterday on a tight 43 to 38 vote. Its Senate backers promptly began rooting for a House victory which might give them another chance.

"If that happens," said Senator Sparkman (D-Ala), "we will fight it out in the Senate again. We need only change three votes —or get some more Democrats on the floor—to win."

A combination of 30 Republicans and 13 Democrats, mostly from the South, administered the death blow in the Senate.

Frantic last-minute efforts by Senator Maybank (D-SC) to peg interest rates at 4 per cent, instead of a lower figure, failed to pick up enough votes for victory.

Sparkman pointed out that the House banking committee had allowed the full $2,000,000,000 of government credit asked for cooperatives and non-profit organizations to build housing for families with incomes of from $2,400 to $4,700 a year. The loans could run for as long as 60 years with interest expected to be about 3 per cent.

Senate sponsors had trimmed the amount in half and tightened up other provisions in their efforts to push it through there.

The successful move to knock out the "middle income" section was made by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio).

As the bill went to the house it included:

$1,750,000,000 to continue the regular system of government insurance of housing mortgages, including an unspecified amount for housing cooperatives.

$500,000,000 of insurance on mortgages for low-cost homes ranging up to $5,000 a unit. On these the Federal Housing Administration insurance could cover 95 per cent of the value with 25 to 30 years for repayment.

$300,000,000 of direct loans to colleges and universities, at 2½ per cent interest and repayment up to 40 years, to provide student and faculty housing.

$150,000,000 of direct loans to veterans unable to find housing credit elsewhere.

$400,000,000 additional funds to cover large-scale rental apartment projects first started during the war. Applications for this insurance more than exhaused available funds early this year although the law did not expire until March 1.

U. S. Steel Profit Largest Since 1929

NEW YORK, March 16—(AP)—United States Steel Corp. had the largest profit in 1949 since the boom days of 1929, without adjustment for the change in dollar values, its stockholders are being informed.

But cash paid out by the corporation exceeded cash receipts from customers by $44,100,000 during the year. Chairman Irving S. Olds disclosed in the annual report mailed out yesterday.

Net profits of $165,908,829 were reported for 1949. The figure for 1948 was $129,627,845.

Products and services sold in 1949 by the nation's largest steel-producing firm totaled $2,301,685,689.

Parliament To Decide On King

Leopold Leaves His Future To Solons

GENEVA, March 16—(AP) — Leopold III, exiled King of the Belgians, has decided to leave the decision on his future to Belgium's parliament, he announced today.

"Whatever the decision which Parliament will take and for which it assumes, in confirmity with the Constitution, the entire and exclusive responsibility, I will bow to it," Leopold said in a statement released by his secretary, Jacques Pirenne, at a news conference.

Leopold, exiled from his homeland since the war, won 57.7 per cent of the vote in an advisory referendum last Sunday on whether he should return to his throne. Many political leaders in Belgium feel this percentage is far too small for a King, who is supposed to represent unity for his people. Other political factions feel he should be returned.

Lora Lee Through In Movies, Judge Says

LOS ANGELES, March 16—(AP)—Lora Lee Michel, the nine-year-old who ran away from her life as a $100-a-day actress, is through with the movies—by a judge's order.

Juvenile Judge A. A. Scott said yesterday that Lora Lee will be made a ward of the court and "will be kept in juvenile hall and studied for a while, then she will be placed in another foster home where she can have fun like any other child."

The child twice has complained to authorities that she was beaten and starved in order to keep her weight down for movie roles. Tuesday, however, she reversed his story and told Judge Scott her foster parents had been "wonderful" to her.

"Because Lora Lee is a problem child, without question, we expect to have considerable difficulty in finding a home to suit her needs," the judge said yesterday.

"She will be permitted normal visitation privileges from her foster parents and she may, if her viewpoint responds satisfactorily, be permitted at some future time to return to Texas with them in the event they wish to return there."

Her foser parents are Mr. and Mrs. Otto Michel, who adopted the child in 1945 in Texas. Since coming here, Lora Lee has played in a score of movies.

Lid Sought On Unemployment

Jump In Worker Total Poses Worry

WASHINGTON, March 16—(AP) — Government economists showed concern today over how to clamp a lid on unemployment, now inching toward the five million mark.

By 1960, they said, the nation will have to provide jobs for some 70,000,000 workers, instead of the 60,000,000 considered the top goal for the immediate post-war era.

But the increase in the labor force apparently has brought no corresponding rise in job openings in recent months.

Census takers counted 4,700,000 jobless on Feb. 11. Statisticians say the number may pass the 5,000,000 point this year, for the first time since 1941.

Already a dozen areas have been stricken with unemployment described as equal to that of 1933. While most of these are small, scattered places with special problems, 43 areas are classed as having "substantial" surpluses in manpower——meaning that more than 12 per cent of their workers are walking the streets.

The 12 areas listed as hardest hit are Washington county, Me., Lawrence, Mass., Pottsville and Greensburg, Pa., Jasper, Ala., Clinton, Ind., Cairo, Crab Orchard, and Mount Vernon, Ill., Sheboygan and Muskegon, Mich., and Park City, Utah.

Over the nation, 7.1 per cent of all workers covered by jobless insurance were listed as out of work in mid-February. That compares with the national average of 25 per cent unemployed in the worst year of the depression, 1933

Another 1,750,000 college and high school graduates are expected to join the labor force this spring and summer. It will be a record influx, representing the biggest wave yet of war veterans whose entrance into the work force was put off for a four-year GI education.

Offers Seven Points To End World Tensions

Secretary Bluntly Predicts Reds Won't Attempt Solution

BERKELEY, Calif., March 16 —(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson challenged Russia today to demonstrate her desire for peace by accepting a new seven-point program to free the world from "destructive tensions and anxieties."

Boiled down, the seven steps Acheson proposed call for an end to Russia's aggressive diplomacy, both in her dealings with satellites and with the Western world, and for new moves to conclude peace treaties and to find some solution to the problem of atomic controls.

Bluntly, he predicted Russia's refusal of any attempt to settle these points of "greatest difference" between the East and the West.

But he insisted that they "must be identified and sooner or later reconciled if the two systems are to live together, if not with mutual respect, at least in mutual security."

Declaring "we want peace, but not at any price," Acheson said Russia must do several things "which, while leaving much yet to do, would give the world new confidence in the possibility of peaceful change." These are the points he listed:

1. Join with the West in defining peace terms for Germany, Japan and Austria—without trying to make them satellites—meanwhile restraining from any interference with the new states of the Far East.

2. Withdraw military and police forces from the Soviet satellites and "refrain from using the shadow of that force to keep in power persons or regimes" which do not command popular confidence.

3. Drop the present "policy of obstruction" in the United Nations and help make the U.N. a serious instrument for building international peace and security.

4. Join in seeking "realistic and effective arrangements for the control of atomic weapons and limitation of armaments in general."

5. Stop using Communist party apparatus to overthrow by subversive means "established governments with which the Soviet government stands in an outward state of friendship and respect."

6. Quit badgering American diplomatic representatives, who

Secret Military Requests Considered

WASHINGTON, March 16 —(AP)—Requests for about $70,000,000 worth of highly secret military installations—described by the armed forces as imperatively needed—came under new study on Capitol Hill today.

Military witnesses have told the House armed services committee that these projects should have "high priority." They are part of a $187,142,000 amendment to the Defense department's $477,974,000 public works bill which the committee previously had under consideration.

In addition, Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) instructed the Marines to submit two amendments for $27,476,000 bringing the grand total in requests for public works to $692,592,000.

The Marine amendments are for $2,476,000 for living quarters at Quantico, Va., and $25,000,000 for a depot in the east, probably to be located at Albany, Ga.

The classified (secret) installation requests are very hush-hush but they indicate intensified activity in radar, special weapons, guided missiles, biological and chemical warfare. Considerable attention is given to the defense of Alaska.

The largest single request is by the Navy. The Navy is asking $23,316,000 to develop naval facilities, including housing, at a secret location "outside the continental United States."

Stock Exchange

Market Moves With Rush At Opening

NEW YORK, March 16—(AP)—The stock market moved ahead with a rush at the opening of business today.

Leaders in virtually every group advanced fractions to around a point.

Heavy trading accompanied the rise. Blocks of 1,000 or more shares peppered a speeding ticker tape. Within a few minutes after the opening buying orders flooded in so fast that the tape fell behind in recording transactions on the floor of the exchange.

Yesterday the market, in one of the most powerful surges in a couple of years, climbed to a new high since August 1946. Investment buying was credited with playing an important part in the advance.

Among the gainers were Bethlehem Steel, American Cyanamid, Zenith Radio, Standard Oil (NJ), Southern Pacific, Studebaker, Baltimore & Ohio, General Motors, Johns-Manville, Texas Co., Armour, Montgomery Ward, Pepsi-Cola, Du Pont.

Dow Chemical struck against the trend with a one-point loss at 79.

Mr. Huber also will give a talk at 1:30 p. m. at Loudon's garage in Hanoverton. A plowing demonstration also will be given at the Loudon farm about two miles away, weather permitting.

Is The Car Worth It? Driver Must Decide

ALLIANCE, March 16—Herbert Dickson, 29, of Salineville will have a decision to make in the immediate future—the decision is to be what will cost the least money.

Arrested by deputy sheriffs Tuesday afternoon on Route 80, Dickson's car, owned by his brother, Richard, 21, had poor foot brakes, no windshield wipers, defective muffler, poor hand brakes and poor steering apparatus.

The car, which Herbert was driving, and which Richard told Judge Harry Wykoff in municipal court this morning that he paid $40 for only last Friday morning in Sebring, was held impounded by the Alliance judge until satisfactory repairs could be made.

Richard thought that perhaps it would be a good idea to take his loss and have the car junked.

are now being "treated as criminals," and branded as "sinister people" with whom all contact is "pregnant with danger."

7. Stop "systematically distorting to their own peoples the picture of the world outside their borders, and of our country in particular." He assailed Soviet propaganda which he said hammers at the idea of "a capitalist encirclement, of a United States craftily and systematically plotting another world war."

Before a commonwealth club audience of 2,000 in San Francisco yesterday, Acheson warned leaders of Red China not to stir up trouble outside of China's borders.

"As old friends, we say to the Chinese people that we fully understand that their present unhappy status within the orbit of the Soviet Union is not the result of any choice on their own part, but has been forced upon them," the Secretary said in a speech bearing the approval of President Truman.

"We understand that the Communist basis for their government is similarly not the result of any free choice of their own. We do not intend to tell them what ideologies or form of government they should have. We do not intend to engage in any aggressive adventures against them. The American people will remain in the future, as we have been in the past, the friends of the Chinese people.

"But they should understand that, whatever happens within their own country, they can only bring grave trouble on themselves and their friends, both in Asia and beyond, if they are led by their new rulers into aggressive or subversive adventures beyond their borders."

Acheson renewed Administration pledges of limited aid—military, economic or technical—to Asiatic countries in the path of Communist aggression; asserted Russia seeks only to prevert for her own imperialistic purposes the changes sought by half of world's peoples; said Red China is an illustration of how Soviet imperialism can capture an independence movement; and pictured America as the real inspiration and leader of "the deep and revolutionary movement of the peoples of Asia."

Cecil M. Fair

EAST PALESTINE, March 16—Cecil M. Fair, 72, of 442 N. Sumner st. died at Rocky Glenn Sanatorium, McConnellsville, O., at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday, shortly after his arrival there. He had been in ill health for some months.

Born in Tionesta, Pa., Feb. 24, 1878, he had spent most of his life in East Palestine, having been a potter here for more than 50 years. He was married to Maude T. Kirk, June 19, 1899, and they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last June.

Surviving are his wife and five sons, Harold, of Niles; Raymond and Charles, of Galveston, Tex.; Joseph of Havre de Grace, Md., and Glen M. of Perry st., Salem; one daughter, Mrs. Madaline McGuckin of Martin's Ferry; 11 grandchildren; one brother, Ira Fair of East Liverpool, and one sister, Mrs. Mae Beck of Cleveland.

Funeral service will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday in the Church of Christ, in charge of the pastor, Rev. C. R. Nichols. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Oliver funeral home 7 to 9 p. m. Friday.

Mrs. Howard Bye

LISBON, March 16 — Mrs. Etura Sheets Bye, 64, wife of Howard K. Bye, died at her home at 414 W. Lincoln Way at 10 a. m. Wednesday after a year's illness.

She was born in Hanoverton March 6, 1886, the daughter of Galen and Etta Sheets. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church, the Ladies Bible Class, Missionary Society and Friendship Circle of the church and a member of the Sorosis Club.

She was married March 18, 1909. Her husband survives, along with a daughter, Miss Ruth Bye, at home; a son, Galen of Lisbon, and two grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the family home, in charge of Rev. Paul T. Gerrard. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the home anytime Friday.

Deputy Sheriff Nabs Escapee Near Lisbon

LISBON, March 16—A 16-year-old youth who escaped the Indiana Boys School at Plainfield, Ind., for a second time in five months was taken into custody on the Old Steubenville road near the noon hour Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Robert Beresford, as the youth abandoned a car stolen in Steubenville.

The lad, a former Columbiana resident, with another 15-year-old escaped from the Indiana institution Monday and had gotten as far as Steubenville where they wrecked a car in which they had made their escape, and the other boy was picked up by Steubenville police.

The lad held here had approximately $16 on him when arrested, and under questioning confessed robbery of a gasoline station in Green county, O.

Authorities at the Indiana school have been notified and the boys are being held for return to the institution.

Salem High Students To Attend Exposition

Seven chartered buses Friday will carry 291 High School pupils to the Industrial Information Institute exposition at the Stambaugh auditorium in Youngstown.

Members of the freshman and senior classes are making the tour this year. They will leave Salem at 11:15 a. m. and arrive in Youngstown at 12:30 p. m. After touring the dozens of exhibits they will attend a scientific show arranged by Ohio Bell. Demonstrations of how radio and television networks operate will be presented and models of the towers and other parts of the system will be shown.

The pupils were given booklets on all exhibits and special programs last week, Principal B. G. Ludwig said. They will start back to Salem at 2:30 p. m. and arrive here at 3:35 p. m.

The exposition is being held by the Institute in cooperation with Junior Chambers of Commerce of the Mahoning and Shenango valleys. Students are invited to learn of job opportunities in this area.

Some 20,000 pioneers pushed through Cumberland Gap in one season shortly after it was opened.

Ingrid Sues For Her Money

Wants Daughter, Pia, From Ex-Husband

LOS ANGELES, March 16 — (AP)—Ingrid Bergman wants her money back from her ex-husband.

She wants her 12-year-old daughter, too, and "reasonable" support for the child.

The actress' attorneys filed suit yesterday against Dr. Peter Lindstrom, whom she divorced in Mexico Feb. 9, demanding an accounting of personal and community property and custody of their child, Pia.

Miss Bergman, 34, demanded $154,000 (after taxes) which she said she earned in making the movie "Stromboli" for Director Roberto Rossellini on the Island of Stromboli in the Mediterranean.

Last Feb. 2 she bore a son in Rome which Rossellini said was his. Their plans to be married have been delayed by legal technicalities in Sweden, Miss Bergman's birthplace.

The actress said Lindstrom, 43, Beverly Hills brain surgeon, has been holding the $154,000 as her American agent. But, she insisted, he has no right to it because it was earned after she left him more than a year ago.

She also demanded her interest in two films still being exhibited, "Joan of Arc" and "Under Capricorn."

The actress asked for a division of community property, including their home here, three automobiles, jewelry, furs, life insurance and $29,000 in government bonds. The court was asked to enjoin Lindstrom from disposing of any of the property until an agreement is reached.

Miss Bergman now is in Italy. Her daughter, Pia, has been in Lindstrom's care since Miss Bergman left to work for Rossellini a year ago. Lindstrom has indicated he will ignore the Mexican divorce and take action in California courts.

Miss Bergman's action yesterday brought to the fore a long dispute which has been overshadowed by the sensational romance between the actress and the Italian director.

Attorneys have been negotiating for months and finally yesterday Bernard Silbert, who filed the suit here for Miss Bergman, said "all attempts to reach an agreement with Dr. Lindstrom have failed."

Niles Dentist Dies Under Train's Wheels

WASHINGTON, March 16 — (AP)—Dr. Edward J. Lally, a dentist of Niles, O., was killed in a train accident at Union Station last night, apparently while waving goodbye to a departing friend.

Lally, about 50, had been attending a dental clinic here. Railroad officials surmised that he walked into the side of a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad train and somehow fell beneath. It ran over him.

He was dead on arrival at Casualty Hospital.

Dr. Lally had gone to the station to see off another dentist, Dr. MacStaton of 3154 Crescent dr., Warren, O.

Filed But Not Forgotten

TAXATION by remote control has finished its annual triumph. Enough paper to cover the earth has been shuffled and filed with the federal government. This completes the greatest transaction in the world—the extraction from American taxpayers of that part of their income which is claimed by their federal government; i. e, the lion's share.

The hustle-bustle just preceding the March 15 deadline is really an anti-climax. Most of the tax money already had been collected, under the asumption that when taxes get so high they compete with food and shelter the ordinary citizen must not be tempted to put food and shelter first. But even that leaves much to chance, and therefore the taxpayer must follow up his money with attestations of his own honesty. This dubious matter will be checked into during the months to come by armies of clerks and batteries of machinery designed to ferret out every deviation from the normal tax-behaviour pattern. Years from now a slip of the pen, the memory, or the conscience may result in a visit from a badge-wearing delegate of federal taxation authority. All of which has been widely advertised and duly noted even by racketeers and hoodlums.

It is, all things considered, one of the truly great marvels of modern times—this intricate system which provides the wherewithal to pull battleships off sand bars, save segments of foreign civilizations, pay the high overhead of official yachts and also to "provivde for the common defense and general welfare of the United States," And not the least marvelous thing about it is the fact the billions it collects are paid with scarcely a murmur—which is the great advantage of remote control. But let an apologetic local publication try to put the bite on a taxpayer for the general welfare of the citizens of his own community and the ensuing squawk can be heard halfway around the world.

The Last Word

DOROTHY KENYON, 62 years old and a spinster who has been living by her legal wits ever since she was admitted to the bar of New York state in 1917, has proved something that many Americans had despaired of proving.

Called on the carpet before a congressional investigating committee under circumstances which had given her political reputation a black eye, she has had the last word. Her black eye, in the judgment of those who witnessed the performance, was transferred to the investigating committee.

This happened for a rare and singular reason. Unlike most persons placed on the defensive because of congressional interest in their political beliefs, Miss Kenyon had nothing to hide. One commentator described her as an "old-fashioned liberal."

These are hard days for old-fashioned liberals. They don't fit into extremist patterns of political thought. Among 150 percent Americans they are viewed as Commies, and among Commies they are viewed as the most hateful of all political specimens—people who believe in a maximum of individual liberty.

But they have one thing that can't be taken away from them, which is flawless personal integrity. They may be half-baked and they may go off half-cocked, as Miss Kenyon apparently did when she let her name be used by organizations which she didn't understand. But they will bear investigation. Miss Kenyon, for one, stood up surprisingly well under the glare of the congressional spotlight.

Spring Cleaning Reward

IF A LOT OF Americans will go at their spring housecleaning this year with more than usual vigor, they may find themselves reaping surprising dividends.

The government says there are more than $200,000,000 worth of matured but uncashed "baby bonds" still outstanding. Every month this year another $75,000,000 come due and ought to be cashed, but a good number probably won't be.

Officials think most of these securities are stuffed away in desks, strong boxes, mattresses, bookcases and similar spots around the house. When you've stowed them away so well, it's easy to forget you ever had them.

So turn the place inside out this spring. There may be more than just shining floors and orderly desks to reward you. And if you do dig up a bond or two from World War II, don't feel too sheepish about it. There are still $9,623,000 worth of matured bonds outstanding from World War I—tucked in hiding places even their owners can't find.

Nothing But The Truth

GEN. GEORGE C. MARSHALL has made a public announcement of an unusual nature. Instead of writing his memoirs, he will keep the cap on his fountain pen.

His memoirs, he explains, would be worthless unless they told everything he knew. But if they told everything he knew, they'd hurt people who are still alive. Gen. Marshall says he has had all that sort of thing—hurting people—that he can stand in one lifetime. So there will be no memoirs.

This is an almost unheard-of attitude for an American to assume.

Memoirs are as good as money in the bank. They've been written even by people who didn't have anything in particular to remember, except odds and ends of unrelated information. And they've been written by almost everybody who moved in even the most remote quarters of the orbit of public glamor created by the publicity-conscious members of the Roosevelt administration. The publishing business never had so many opportunities to turn a quick profit through curiosity about the goings and comings of the great, near-great and not-so-near great. It was as good as a Marshall Plan.

There will be no Marshall Plan for Gen. Marshall, which must be one more reason why he continues to increase in stature while so many others continue to shrink.

Behind The Scenes In Coal Strike

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON

BEHIND THE SCENES in the recent coal strike negotiation a significant chapter in American economic history may have been written that will bear analysis.

David Lawrence

Independent coal operators are coming here to find out what happened in the smoke-filled room where the deal was made, presumably in their behalf. The tales that are told are various. But they add up to the simple fact that, in a secret meeting with only three or four persons present, the coal strike was settled and the independent operators had to "take it or leave it."

The operators were not really united by a common interest. It was this division upon which Lewis always counted, and he won out. He played one group against the other successfully.

THE NET RESULT eventually may be fewer coal mines in operation and more unemployment for miners. It may also bring losses to stockholders of several coal companies which in a year or two may have to go out of business. They will be forced out by a form of competition which is not to their liking—the competition of larger producers, whose costs are lower than theirs, tied into a labor-union monopoly that fixes prices.

It's the same old story of the plight of the marginal producer who finds himself ground between the upper millstone of the labor-union monopoly and the nether millstone of pressure from the large producers who have mechanized equipment and low-cost operations enabling them to absorb higher wage costs and still make a profit.

The accusation heard here from among the smaller coal producers is that the larger companies which are also engaged in other lines of business can afford to pay tribute to Lewis because they charge off a portion of their loss on coal to the profits they make on other commodities. When it is considered that one-fourth of the bituminous coal production in America comes from mines which are owned by companies in other businesses—what are known as "captive mines"—the leverage which that group has in fixing the wage costs theoretically is very powerful indeed.

THERE WAS A TIME when the railroads owned coal mines but nearly half a century ago Congress passed a law prohibiting that form of ownership by the carriers. Though legislation might be proposed to prevent companies engaged in any other business from owning coal mines, it is problematical whether this would help the competitive situation very much.

For the larger coal producers, even with no other connections, can mine coal more cheaply than their smaller competitors and compete readily against southern producers, for example, who have a long haul from their mines to the industrial areas that must use coal in their manufacturing plants.

It comes back to the fundamental fact that in America there are high-cost and low-cost producers and they logically should compete against one another. But actually John L. Lewis, and not the anti-trust laws, controls that factor in the coal industry.

The head of the miners' union now regulates production, creates scarcities, sends the cost of coal upward and makes his deal with the large producers while ignoring the plight of the marginal units altogether. Here is a labor price-fixing monopoly of the most palpable sort, and it means that when big unions and big business team up together the end result could be a cartel run by private groups.

Certainly the public interest would require that a thorough inquiry into what happened behind the scenes be made—and that the mediators and fact-finding board members be required to disclose what were the economic pressures that sent the coal bill of the nation up by $84,000,000 and introduced higher costs also in the sale price of products manufactured in plants using coal.

Shaking Palsy Victims Need Rest

THERE is a chronic condition of the nervous system called shaking palsy, paralysis agitans, or Parkinson's disease, which afflicts a good many people.

This disorder causes muscular shaking principally of the hands and arms, and a sort of stiffness of muscular movement.

It is a nervous condition because it comes from damage to a certain portion of the brain not connected with the thinking processes.

Probably the most common form is that which develops in older people — men more than women—as a result of some obscure process which may be connected with hardening of the arteries or something else which is not known.

Sometimes severe anxiety or mental or physical shock seems to bring on the symptoms. The disease begins gradually, usually in one hand and at first the shakmal except perhaps after the time. Together with the tremors there is some loss of muscular strength and stiffness.

Muscular movements tend to be performed more slowly and with greater difficulty. There are some other symptoms, especially a tendency to lack of expressiveness in the face, which are often present.

The same symptoms may come from infections, especially what is called epidemic encephalitis, which is a virus infection of the brain sometimes spoken of as American sleeping sickness. When Parkinson's disease develops from this cause, it is as likely to be as common in women as in men and may come early in life.

There may be periods of improvement of the palsy. Parkinson's disease is a slow process and tends to last for a great many years. There is no pain and the mental condition is usually normal except perhaps after the disease has existed for many years when there may be some slowing of the mental process.

People who have this condition regardless of the nature of that which produced it, should be especially careful to avoid getting overtired. Although medicine does not have any cure or completely satisfactory treatment, there are several drugs which are often helpful in controlling the tremors.

Strenuous activity or entertainment should not be indulged in, but a fairly active life with some work is good for most victims. Cold water treatments, special exercises sun, baths, massage and vitamin preparations have all been tried without much success.

Making A Celebrity

By Hal Boyle

THE FROSTED door pane bore the sign: "The Celebrity Stable—Celebrities Bought, Sold, Rented and Exchanged."

Hal Boyle

Inside the office with his feet on the desk sat the famous Broadway agent and celebrity manufacturer, Wheeler ("Ten Per Cent") Topchop.

Out for his usual cut, Wheeler was writing to his mother. The letter warned her that if she didn't start giving him ten per cent of her monthly relief check he would snitch to the government that she was secretly buying a television set on the installment plan.

The door opened and in strode a tall, rawboned youth carrying a straw suitcase.

"I'm Elmer Cornpone from Pea Hollow, Tenn.," he said shyly. "I'm tired of being a nobody. I want to be famous."

"My boy, you have come to the right place," said Wheeler. "Take off your shoes and rest your feet."

But the agent looked disconcerted when Elmer did sit down, take off his shoes, wriggle his toes and say, "Thanks, I've had 'em on all morning."

"The public is crying for new celebrities," said Wheeler, going into his pitch. "But there are three kinds of celebrities—unknown, self-known and well-known.

-:-

"TO BE A well-known celebrity you have to be able to do something special or you have to have something—money."

When Elmer confessed all he had left was $23.45—including a $10 Confederate bill—Wheeler looked depressed. He asked if there was anything Elmer could do. Young Cornpone scratched his head and finally allowed:

"Well, I can put two needles in my mouth and knit a baby sock in 15 minutes. But everybody in Pea Hollow already knows that."

"But the world doesn't," exclaimed the agent excitedly. "Son, that's a wonderful stunt. You're a natural celebrity."

Wheeler whipped out a contract and Elmer wet his lips and put his "X" to it proudly. In the next two weeks Cornpone was the guest star on 15 different programs.

Then he got his own show. Dressed in a pair of satin overalls, he would start knitting the baby sock with the needles in his teeth while a 97-piece band wearing silk hillbilly costumes played in the background. In the finale, as he knitted the toe, Elmer made wisecracks about his home town from one side of his mouth and played "Dixie" on a harmonica in the other.

ELMER was quoted everywhere. He endorsed three breakfast foods, four kinds of cigars and three brands of cigarets and seriously considered learning to smoke. Three million women bought "Knit With Elmer" kits. He was hailed as the greatest talent of his time.

In a year he earned $450,000. But Wheeler took ten per cent as his agent, ten per cent as his business agent, ten per cent as his personal secretary, ten per cent as his publicity representative, and ten per cent for writing his gags, which he copied from a 1931 file of "College Humor." Then Wheeler took another ten per cent just because nobody was looking.

All this left Elmer owing Uncle Sam about $37,000. One morning, wearing a bright tan polo coat and dark sunglasses, Cornpone dropped in on his agent to borrow his usual $5 daily allowance. Wheeler gave him the $5 and said:

"This ends it, Elmer. You're done—washed up."

"Wh-wh-what do you mean?" stuttered Cornpone.

-:-

"YOUR SPONSOR has cancelled out. You're a has-been. People are tired of seeing you knit with your teeth. They think it's just a trick."

The agent then pulled out a letter and said:

"Ever hear of Otis Hogside from Fat Hollow, Tenn.?"

"Sure, I know Cousin Otis," said Elmer.

"Can he really yodel a hillbilly song at the same time he's swallowing a basketball?"

"Course he can," said Elmer, "but everybody in our county is worn out from watching him doing it."

"The rest of the world isn't—yet," said Wheeler. "By the way, I'll give you $10 for that polo coat."

"What for?" asked Elmer, peeling it off.

"For Cousin Otis—I don't want him to look like a bum."

A Tough Chore

By PETER EDSON

Who Should Man The H-Bomb Ark?

WASHINGTON

THERE'S a new wrinkle going around on the old wheeze about, "Who would you like to be stuck on a desert island with?" To make the question fit the atomic age, it has been revised to, "What ten persons should be given top priority protection for posterity, in the event of national destruction by hydrogen bomb?"

The supposition is that, as in the days of The Flood, they would take the place of . . .

"Noah and the animals—two by two—
The hippo-pa-tamus and the ki-kangaroo"

. . .As the old song had it.

This is a fair enough question. It should be good for an evening's lively conversation at any cookie and carrot juice party. It makes you think. It makes you think who is essential and who is non-essential. And it brings you up against the stark realization that there are many more of the latter than the former.

In the first place, there is no use saving anyone over 30 years old. The ten to be protected will have the job of procreating to carry on civilization. So all the old gals and gaffers are out. Much as you would at first be inclined to nominate for salvation John L. Lewis and Eleanor Roosevelt or Senator and Martha Taft, the sad truth is that they'll have to be sacrificed. No personal reflections about this of course. It's all in the interest of posterity, and the wisdom of the aged counts for naught.

SOME PEOPLE working on this list would no doubt like to approach it from the Dan Cupid angle and do some ideal match-making: Margaret O'Brien and boy friend. Joe DiMaggio and a diving queen. Ingrid Bergman or Rita Hayworth and their latest. Clark Clifford and Miss America. Margaret Truman and Mr. America. Yehudi Menuhin and somebody to play the piano.

But that's no go. It's too much like the old story about the proposal that Bernard Shaw marry Elenora Duse. The idea was that their children—with his brains and her beauty—would all be geniuses. Shaw discovered the catch in that one. What if the offspring turned out to have his beauty and her brains.

Perhaps the easiest way to start on this problem would be to conduct a national lottery. Leave it to chance. That's what Mother Nature has done since the beginning of time. It has produced some terrible misfits. It has also produced Abraham Lincoln, Thomas A. Edison, Mark Twain and Walt Whitman. Ten people picked at random—if of sound body and average inteiligence—would probably do as good a job as five ideal couples.

Another approach would be to pick 'em the way they pick race horses. Get good stock. Perfect physical specimens, high I. Q. Or pick one couple on those standards. Then surround them with four other couples who would contribute most to their staying alive.

FIRST OFF, you would want a scientist. Somebody who could run a Geiger counter and tell you where it would be safe to put your tootsies without getting them ray-burned in an atom-contaminated world. That suggests some young atomic scientist like J. Robert Oppenheimer, generally conceded the smartest of the American geniuses. Only he'd have to promise not to build another bomb. If his wife is a schooltacher let him bring her along to educate the next generation.

You would want a young doctor and a nurse, to carry on what mankind has learned so far about curing illness and saving life.

Next you would want a good farmer and wife. Somebody who knew how to grow potatoes and can tomatoes. That suggests picking the champion 4-H Club boy and girl each year, and keeping them available. They're young enough, of good country stock, sound of heart, of health, of mind and habit.

Next you would need a good mechanic and jack-of-all-trades—somebody who could build a porch on the cave, rig up a water-wheel, hook it to grindstone, build a fire by rubbing sticks together, trap a squirrel, skin a rabbit, build a boat, cut firewood and fix the plumbing. By all means he must be able to do that.

Your jack-of-all-trades would need to have a good practical wife. Somebody who could run a sewing machine, hang curtains over the cave windows, bake a wild cherry pie, spin, weave and darn socks.

And there you have your ten.

As for all politicians, lawyers, radio entertainers, bond salesmen, bankers, real estate agents, movie stars, executives, Canasta players and newspaper columnists—

As the Lord High Executioner sings in the Mikado, "They never would be missed, they never would be missed."

Our Biggest Problem

By GEORGE S. BENSON

THIS PERIOD in world history may well be recorded as the era of the Great Hullabaloo for economic security.

Future historians will never be able to relate, however, that the politicians of this or any other day discovered a magic formula for making everybody healthy, wealthy and free "at the sound of the gong." The bedrock realities of life block fulfillment of any such politician's pipe dream or promise.

Economic security simply can't be spooned out of a bottle like patent medicine. And it isn't a gift to be bestowed without strings attached. It's something to work for, something that can be had only when and as it is produced.

Behind the economic security of every man, every family, every group, must be somebody's productive effort, somebody's thrift, somebody's conserved wealth. The government can only give to one man what it takes from him, or another, or both; for the American kind of government doesn't produce wealth.

There are two notable nations today in which the government is providing for the economic security of all the people. These are, of course, Britain and Russia. Any American worker, middle man, executive, school teacher or lawyer might go to either country and obtain politically-guaranteed economic security — full employment, old age pensions, free medical care, etc. But who wants to go; who in America, indeed, wants that kind of security at the price demanded?

And yet we must do more than merely reject the dangerous palliative of the political planners. We must set about calmly and unhurried to find a road along which we can travel safely toward the goal of economic security which is a basic motivation of all mankind. But how? What road? From Jamestown to Yorktown, America's historic freedom road was two centuries long and costly. Because of that freedom we have come a long way on the security road.

In the area of big industry, where the present headlong drive for pensions and other security benefits is concentrated, there assuredly should be pension and life and medical insurance programs soundly calculated. Employes should contribute from salaries and wages to programs in which they participate. No person has the right to demand a secure old age, medical and hospital service and life insurance, unless he is willing, while able, to contribute to the cost.

When a company is obliged through pressure of one kind or another to pay all the cost without any corresponding increase in productivity or decrease in production cost, then the public has to stand the bill. My neighbor has just bought a good $2.95 axe at the hardware store. When the recent steel price hike, brought on by the pensions granted last December, is extended to the retail price, the same axe will sell for at least $3.25, the store owner told him. Files and many other steel implements already have gone up, the hardware man said.

So those who buy axes will be contributing about 20c each (best estimate) of their money to the steel workers' pension fund. When we consider the price boosts on other all steel implements, the coal miners' pensions and others which are also directly reflected in higher retail prices, we can see an accumulating problem. Those in the working consumer group not pensioned will seek relief or recourse. But where will they go? Right now some are turning to the political security medicine men—and that is dangerous, as can be witnessed in Russia and England.

There are also the problems in the area of small business where employee groups will naturally try to follow the example of their counterparts in big industry. The problems here have a hundred angles. If we are wise, our citizenry will not let the political hullabaloo rush us and trap us. It took nearly 200 years for Americans to establish freedom. We can well afford to spend considerable time on this second great goal—security. Rushing into it too fast, without calculating the costs, might wreck our economy and bring insecurity to all.

So They Say

The power that the (AFL) teamsters exercise . . . business is sufficient to dwarf the economic power of . . . so-called monopolistic giant unions into relative insignificance.
—Robert N. Denham, general counsel, National Labor Relations Board.

BIBLE QUOTATION

Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.—Hebrews 13:9.

Rev. Scott To Aid In Canfield Service

Rev. E. S. Scott, pastor of the First Christian Church, will have part in the rededication service of the Canfield Christian Church at 3 p. m. Sunday.

The rededication address will be given by Rev. George Van Wingerden, pastor of the Girard Christian Church, whose subject will be "The Spiritual Dimensions of the Church."

The Canfield church, of which Rev. Frederick A. Snowden, Jr., is pastor, has just completed a $30,000 remodeling and enlargement program.

Among the first of its denomination to be organized in the Mahoning Valley, the history goes back to 1829 when a church was started in the northwest section of Canfield township. From this, the village church was started in 1847. The main portion of the building in which the auditorium is situated is the original building, which was built in 1847.

American Legion Post Marks 31st Anniversary At Banquet

WITH EACH of its 31 years marking achievement "For God and Country," Charles H. Carey post, American Legion, last night celebrated its birthday with a banquet in the post home.

Mrs. Chester Kridler, auxiliary president, in cooperation with auxiliary and Legion members, planned the party. Seventy-five guests were seated at the U-shaped table.

The story of the Salem post since its inception in 1919 is one of growth of membership and purpose. After the founding of the Legion in Paris March 15-17, 1919, service men organized a post here. In fitting tribute to Charles H. Carey, the first man from Salem to die in World War I, the post bears his name.

Sidelights into Legion and auxiliary history were given by Mrs. Raymond Broomall, past auxiliary and 10th district president, and H. E. Zepernick, present 10th district vice commander.

After the post charter was granted in 1920, the women banded together and the auxiliary received its charter in 1921. Mrs. Broomall told of the successive steps the organizations took, from its rooms in the Schwartz building, to the Speidel block and then to the old post home on E. State st.

With an all-out progressive campaign the home was purchased and later through its sale the new post home was realized. While still in the process of being made over, the former Baptist Church property, which now houses the Legion activities, is a monument to both past and future achievement.

A yearly World War II memorial of books for the Salem public library, the acquiring of needed equipment through the years, the sponsoring of a Salem Hospital nurse, and projects of all kinds are numbered among the auxiliary activities. It was pointed out that the auxiliary has exceeded its membership quota for this year.

The complete roster of past commanders of Charles H. Carey Post was read by Mr. Zepernick in the talk he gave assisted by Past Commanders Charles Haldi and Ross Helman.

Fred G. Senften was the first commander in 1919. Among the names of early commanders familiar to post members were those of the third commander, Orville C. Hoover; John C. Litty, fifth; Mr. Haldi, eleventh; Charles McCorkhill, 14th; and Rev. H. L. Miller, fourth and eighth, the only commander who served two times.

Mr. Zepernick praised Commander William Schaeffer on reaching the 351-membership goal. The 10th District made up of 70 posts, of which Salem is one, is the biggest district in the United States. Its membership by July will total 20,000.

The Salem celebration was only one of many held throughout the nation this week commemorating the founding of the Legion. In relation to the national organization, Zepernick quoted these principles:

"Born of war, in that everyone of its three million members must have seen active service in the armed forces of the United States in one or both of the two world wars, it stands today as the foremost champion of peace, propriety and security for our nation."

Working through the years to preserve the fruits of victory, national and civic advancement has been the Legion's aim. The picture of the American Legion in action shows 73 million dollars spent in the last 25 years to advance child welfare, he said.

In summation Mr. Zepernick declared that the American Legion firmly believes that only through military strength, backed by spiritual strength, can we assure our own security and contribute endurance to the peace of the world. To this the members re-dedicated themselves on their 31st anniversary.

Myron Griffith of Greenford, a former member of the post here, was a guest. The thought he left with the group was that it would be only proper to combine the name of the first Salem World War II gold-star soldier with that of Charles H. Carey, for a memorial to both.

A large blue and gold decorated birthday cake was presented to Commander Schaeffer by Mrs. Kridler as a symbol of appreciation of Legion and auxiliary cooperation. Schaeffer summed up the talks with praise for a successful and worthwhile evening.

Other highlights of the evening incuded music by the Little Dutch Band, composed of Fritz and Walter Krauss, Dale Wright and Glen Jackson, and a singfest played by Dwight Getz and led by Mrs. W. J. Seeman.

In conclusion appreciation was expressed to Roy Foust, custodian, for his work, and games were played.

Legion Members Attend County Council Dinner

The 31st American Legion birthday anniversary was celebrated last night at the annual Columbiana County Council birthday dinner in Wellsville.

Attending from Salem were Milton Critchfield, Third Division commander of the Tenth District; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hollinger and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grubbs and daughter.

Rev. Fr. John E. Duffy of London spoke on his experiences under General Johnathan Wainwright's command and on the rigors of Jap prison life. He also told of the internal dangers facing our government. County Commander William Doughterty of Wellsville was toastmaster.

Inspection Planned By Knights Templar

Junior Grand Warden of Ohio Fern J. Blose, Toledo, will conduct the annual inspection for Salem Commandery, Knights Templar, Tuesday evening, March 21, in the Masonic Temple. Dinner will be served at 6:30. Plans for the event were made at Tuesday night's session of the commandery.

Plans were also considered for the Council of Templar Advancement meeting Friday evening, March 24, in the temple. Officers are expected from over the district.

Tentative arrangements have been made to attend the Easter service in the First Presbyterian Church. A dinner will follow at the temple.

A dinner for the commandery and its auxiliary was held preceding the meetings. St. Patrick's Day decorations decked the table set for 45. The hostess, Mrs. Andrew Banker, was assisted by Mrs. J. Fred Bryan, president of the auxiliary.

The roll call, "Memories of Courtship Days," afforded fun at the auxiliary session. Twenty-two members responded. Mrs. A. H. Schropp gave a historical review of St. Patrick's Day.

Book Review Presented To Methodist Group

Mrs. Eugene Early gave an excellent review of the book, "Mary," (Sholen Aesch) to members of Group 7 of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service Tuesday evening in the social room.

Mrs. Floyd Craig's interesting talk was on "Mary Magdalene" and "Mary, Mother of Mark."

Mrs. Dana Floding arranged the program. Mrs. Loren Early was leader for the devotions. Mrs. Homer S. Taylor played the accompaniment for two vocal solos by Miss Dorothy Chilson. Gyll Floding entertained with two piano solos.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. R. Moore, Mrs. Carl J. Beecher and Miss Daisy Fisher. Lunch was served from a table prettily appointed in a St. Patrick's Day theme.

The choir of the Massachusetts liberal arts college for women numbers over 100 voices.

Will Give Book Review

Mrs. Guy M. Byers will review the book, "The Three Peabody Sisters of Salem," at a tea sponsored by the Lisbon Garden Club at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the American Legion Home there.

Women's Rights Convention Was Held Here 100 Years Ago

WOMEN voters owe a vote of thanks to Betsy M. Cowles, who sparkplugged a movement for their right of franchise here years ago.

This is the 100th anniversary year of a Women's Rights Convention, which was presided over by Miss Cowles. It marked the beginning of an organized movement in Ohio for equal legal and political rights for women.

In April of 1850, the year Ohio was to consider a new state constitution, female anti-slavery reformers from the immediate vicinity of Salem convened to memorialize the constitutional body for equal women's rights.

The Ohio women's conference was the outgrowth of a similar convention held two years earlier in Seneca Falls, N. Y., the first national gathering of Women's Rights agitators in the nation, and the only one 'til the Salem convention in City Hall.

BETSY COWLES, outstanding figure at the conference, was a kindergarten teacher, at the time known as infant school, and is credited with pioneering the education of children in the old Western Reserve territory.

She was an ardent anti-slavery crusader, who with her sister, Cornelia, achieved quite a reputation for a singing campaign in behalf of abolition.

Betsy's background, centering around the liberty of conscience of her Quaker beliefs and her graduation from Oberlin College, then a rallying point for proponents of women's rights, gave her the natural inclination to crusade for such causes as woman suffrage and equal legal rights with man.

The convention, under her direction, passed a resolution setting forth demands of the reformers on a variety of subjects. The letter to the constitutional conference won little support, however, and a resolution to eliminate the word "male" from the constitution with regard to suffrage was voted down 72-7.

OTHER OHIO conventions for Women's Rights were held by female reformers within the next few years—at Akron in 1851, at Massillon in 1852, and at Ravenna in 1853. But these were merely anti-climaxes to the 1850 convention here in Salem.

With the advent of the Civil War and its increase in anti-slavery agitation, the question of equal rights for women faded more and more into the background. Crusading activities declined until after passage of the 15th Amendment and grant of franchise to the newly-freed slaves.

Betsy M. Cowles' activities decreased through these years and she died at her family home in Austinburg, Ashtabula County, in 1876. Her pioneering activities in the suffrage movement were taken up by younger women, and the 70 year struggle for women's rights finally reached fruition with the granting of franchise in 1919.

Presbyterians Hold Family Night Dinner

An evening of good fellowship was enjoyed Wednesday by 125 members and guests of the Presbyterian Women's Association meeting for a Family Night dinner in the church.

March committee members, headed by Mrs. Clifford Todd and Mrs. C. W. Cozad, combined their hostess activities with the staging of a successful benefit.

Mrs. Gertrude Stewart used a "Plus and Minus" theme in telling the story of a woman who had difficulty in finding help to put on a church supper. Going literally in the "highways and hedges" to recruit assistance, she discovered that it is not how much is given that counts but that which is given of what one has to Christian service.

The musical portion of the program included the singing of a solo prayer by Mrs. Frank Huber and two numbers, "My Task" and "Prayer Perfect" by Joseph Greenwood.

A list of acceptable comics for children was distributed. The list was compiled by the National Parent-Teacher Association and is being sponsored by the Salem P. T. A., Ministerial Association and Council of Church Women. Local dealers will be asked to cooperate.

Louis Weirick showed a colored movie, "Northern Outpost," depicting the life of the Eskimo years ago and now, and another movie showing the war devastation in Europe and Asia.

Mrs. Maurice Sadler, association president, announced the Presbyterial meeting for Thursday, March 23, in the Warren Presbyterian Church. Women going from Salem must have their reservations in by Monday with Mrs. Sadler or Miss Anna Cook.

The next association meeting is April 19.

High School Principal Of Alliance Honored

Ralph S. Coppock, acting principal of the Alliance High School, was honored at the chapel ceremonies Wednesday morning at the school in recognition of his 70th birthday anniversary.

Mr. Coppock, who will conclude his 39-year teaching career in the Alliance public schools at the end of this school year, was presented a birthday cake and other gifts.

A former Winona resident, Mr. Coppock is widely known in the district for his church activities. He is presiding clerk of Damascus Quarterly Meeting of Friends and of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of Friends.

Methodist Group Has Dessert Luncheon

Appointments in keeping with St. Patrick's Day prevailed when Mrs. Carl F. Willman and Mrs. Joseph Calladine entertained 13 members of Group 2 of the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service at a dessert luncheon Wednesday at the Willman home, E. Ninth st.

Mrs. E. J. Walton conducted the devotions. Delores Buta entertained with a group of vocal solos, accompanied by Mrs. Steven Odoran.

J. M. Kelley To Talk To Prospect P. T. A.

J. M. Kelley, manager of the Memorial building, Salem's recreational center, will be guest speaker when the Prospect School Parent-Teacher Association observes Father's Night Monday. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the school.

Mr. Kelley will discuss "Recreation in Salem." A basketball game between the Prospect Sixth Grade and a Junior High team will be played. Lunch will be served.

Noname Club Is Guest Of Mrs. Pete Clark

Mrs. Edward Zilavy and Mrs. Richard Greene were included in the guest list when Mrs. Pete Clark entertained members of the Noname Club Wednesday evening at her home, S. Madison ave.

Without Painful Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief — help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

DENIES RED TIES — New York lawyer Dorothy Kenyon appears before the Senate foreign relations subcommittee to answer charges made by Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, R. Wis., that she had been affiliated with 28 pro-Communist organizations. Miss Kenyon said "I am not, and never have been" a Communist or fellow-traveler.

Fire Destroys Goodyear Warehouse

KANSAS CITY, March 16 — (AP)—Fire destroyed a four-story Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., warehouse in North Kansas City last night with an estimated loss of $2,300,000.

The flames jumped across the street to a nine-story factory building contining more than $1,000,000 worth of cotton, burlap and paper bag material, but were controlled quickly there.

An estimated 60,000 rubber tires were destroyed in the warehouse.

J. A. Bailey of Dallas, division manager of the Goodyear Co., said the loss in tires probably would exceed $2,000,000. Value of the warehouse was placed at $300,000 by its owner, D. S. Adams.

Two firemen were overcome by smoke.

Firm Interested In Taking Over Lustron

WASHINGTON, March 16 — (AP)—A financial group which seeks to keep the Lustron prefab housing firm in Columbus, O., operating is expected to meet with Reconstruction Finance Corp. officials sometime this week.

Negotiations with the group were scheduled for yesterday, but the meeting never came off, said Harvey L. Gunderson, RFC director.

Lustron now is operating under a court-appointed receiver, following foreclosure action by the RFC. The RFC loaned Lustron $37,500,000.

Grocers Opposed To Subsidies, FEPC

CINCINNATI, March 16—(AP)—The United States Wholesale Grocers Association would like to see an end to agricultural subsidies and is opposed to FEPC legislation.

Resolutions on those two subjects were adopted yesterday as the grocers ended their annual convention here.

E. G. Bierhaus of Vincennes, Ind., was elected president of the organization.

Other officers elected were: E. H. Harrison of Clarksville, Tenn., chairman of the executive committee; Harold O. Smith, Jr., of Washington, executive vice-president; R. H. Rowe of Washington, vice-president and secretary, and Mrs. J. D. Deland of Washington, treasurer.

The resolution on FEPC legislation called it "unwarranted and unnecessary regimentation of and interference with the management of private business."

The resolution asking for an end to government subsidies said they result in a "vast government expenditure for farm food and commodities which then must be sold at a loss, given away or destroyed."

Clever Prisoner Talks Way To Freedom

EATON, March 16 — (AP) — John Emerson Ballinger, 32, of Miamisburg, a prisoner, gave Preble county officials a "hot tip" yesterday that there was going to be a break at the county jail. Then he proceeded to escape while the officials were investigating his "information."

Ballinger was scheduled to have been taken to the Ohio Penitentiary today to start serving a sentence for issuing fraudulent checks.

Yesterday he finished his job on a work detail and told Deputy Sheriff C. D. Neanover of the supposed escape plot. He even told the officer where the plotters had hidden their escape materials.

Neanover went to investigate, leaving Ballinger with Deputy Joe Lee. Ballinger then asked to talk with Prosecutor Julian E. Clark and was given permission. He talked with Clark for a few minutes, eased out a door and disappeared.

Cheap Hormone Drug Sought

Aid For Arthritis Too Costly For Use

BERKELEY, Calif., March 16—(AP)—A far-flung scientific project aimed at bringing about low-cost factory production of the "wonder" hormone substances that combat arthritis, rheumatic fever and a score of other stubborn diseases was announced here yesterday.

The ultimate aim is to put into the hands of industrial chemists the power to duplicate the body-regulating products of the pituitary and other important glands of humans and animals.

Such an achievement conceivably could revolutionize the treatment of mankind's most troublesome diseases. It could lead toward a solution of the cancer problem. It could delay the physical aging of humans.

These hormone substances, exemplified by ACTH and cortisone, at present are priceless. To make a thimbleful of ACTH requires the pituitary glands of thousands of slaughtered animals.

The total output of these two products now is insignificant compared to the demand. It is enough to treat experimentally only a few cases of arthritis or other diseases. Hundreds of thousands of people who might benefit from it cannot get it because it is so scarce.

The new project contemplates the making of these and other precious substances out of amino acids, the everyday chemical compounds which make protein.

Behind the undertaking is Dr. C. H. Li, discoverer of ACTH. He will direct a double-barreled research project, one here on the University of California campus and the other at the University of Uppsala, Sweden. The medical research council of Sweden has given Dr. Li a laboratory and 200,000 Kroner (roughly $40,000) for the research there. The work here is financed by the University of California.

Nash Settlement Raises Labor Hopes

DETROIT, March 16—(AP)—A pension plan won by the CIO United Auto Workers from Nash-Kalvenator Corp. without a strike fanned hopes in labor circles here today of an early break in the Chrysler strike.

The UAW-CIO and four smaller unions reached an agreement last night with Nash. It gave the UAW everything the union has been demanding in its 51-day-old walkout at Chrysler.

Reports from Washington of federal concern over the Chrysler strike also raised hopes here there would be more rapid progress in negotiations to get 89,000 Chrysler employes back on the job.

Features of the Nash settlement include, the UAW announced, "a fully funded pension plan and an insurance program which meets the 10 cents an hour pattern already established in a substantial section of the automobile industry."

The Nash plan provides workers $100 a month pensions, including Social Security benefits, to those retiring at 65 with 25 years of service.

Youth Program Set For Midway Grange

LEETONIA, March 16—The juveniles of Midway Grange will present a variety show at the grange hall at 8 p .m. Friday. All members of the Juvenile Grange will have some part on the program.

A free-will offering will be taken. Proceeds of this program will be used to buy material for the grange work of the juveniles and their entertainment. Fifty-five juveniles attended the meeting Tuesday evening.

Sixty-five members of Midway Grange attended their meeting Tuesday evening presided over by the master, Ben Weingart. Lawrence Kibler was elected to fill the unexpired term of Leo Cooley who resigned.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Myers of Unity Grange and Mrs. Paul Smith of West Point Grange were guests. Mr. Myers is master of Unity Grange.

Steubenville College Drops Football

STEUBENVILLE, March 16—Steubenville College today announced it was dropping football from its sports curriculum for an indefinite period.

Trustees of the college, a Catholic school operated by the Steubenville diocese of the Catholic Church, said in a statement:

"Football will be dropped because of the financial burden involved in fielding a team capable of satisfactory performance in intercollegiate contests, under the present conditions of the sport, would place too great a restriction on the use of funds which should be properly expended for educational needs."

As a result of the change of policy, Rev. Leonard P. Sardo, director of athletics, has cancelled a schedule of eight games for the 1950 season.

The college will continue basketball, baseball and golf, the trustees announced.

The football team, known as the Barons, won five out of 25 games in the three years of operation. There were 18 defeats and two ties. The team was coached by Silvio D. Zaninelli during the 1949 season.

30-Man Committee To Draft Building Code

COLUMBUS, March 16—(AP)—A 30-man committee to rewrite Ohio's building code was named yesterday by State Sen. Clingnan Jackson, chairman, of the Ohio program commission.

The committee has been asked by Gov. Frank J. Lausche to survey housing facilities in the state.

S. O. Linzell, state director of public works, is committee chairman.

State Sen. Richard A. Wilmer (D-Butler) was named chairman of the committee and Rep. F. K. Cassel (R-Wyandot) secretary.

Bob Feller, Luke Easter Star In Latest Indian Victory

Bob Sharp On First Time Out

Luscious Raps Two Hits As Tribe Takes Oaks

TUCSON, Ariz., March 16 —(AP)—Newcomer Luke Easter and oldtimer Bob Feller stilled the critics—at least temporarily —by turning in impressive performances in an exhibition tilt yesterday.

Luscious Luke, who just couldn't hit in training, now seems to have found the range. He drove five runs across the plate yesterday as the Tribe set back the Oakland Oaks, 12-11. The day before, he swatted his first home run of the year to win a game for the B squad against the Oaks.

One of Easter's two hits was a 400-foot triple with two on in the Indians' three-run sixth. The other was a roller in the ninth which scored the tying run. Milt Mielsen lined a single to left to bring across the winning marker.

Feller started the game yesterday without warming up and promptly yielded three runs in a shaky first inning. Then the ex-boy wonder of the big leagues collected himself and didn't allow one hit the next three innings he pitched.

Turning in good performances this season is especially important to both Easter and Feller—Easter because of his brief baseball experience at 28 years of age, Feller because he has shown strong signs of slipping the past two seasons.

Rapid Robert's hurling was even more impressive when one figures in his avowed aim to take things easy during spring training. He explained he suffered injuries the last two training seasons and then failed to hit his stride until late in the regular season.

Leo Thomas, who wants to take over the wide-open third-base job, could put two runs batted in on his application. The rookie, a draftee from Portland, Ore., was instrumental in bringing the Tribe from behind.

Steve Gromek, who followed Feller to the mound, just didn't have the stuff yesterday. The Oaks collected nine hits off Steve in the three innings he pitched, battering him for seven runs in the sixth and seventh frames.

Early Wynn finished up for Cleveland and was counted the winner. Wynn allowed one hit, a home run by Lloyd Christopher.

Pitching for the Oaks were southpaw Jay Ragni, Don Farrarese and Al Gettel, a former Indian.

The Tribe will begin its exhibition series along the West Coast tomorrow by meeting the Chicago White Sox at Wrigley Field, Los Angeles. Gene Bearden will start for Cleveland, followed by Dick Rozek.

B-W Team Moves Up In NAIB Tournament

KANSAS CITY, March 16 — The little fellows still have a big chance as the National Intercollegiate (NAIB) basketball tournament moves into its quarterfinal round tonight.

Of the eight seeded teams, only Brooklyn College and Indiana State of Terre Haute remain in the championship running of the six-day, 32-team meet.

Other quarter finalists are East Central Oklahoma State, Central College of Fayette, Mo., Davis and Elkins, of Elkins, W. Va., University of Tampa, Baldwin-Wallace and Central Washington College of Education.

Indiana State, beaten in the 1946 and 1948 finals, takes on Baldwin-Wallace tonight. The Indiana Sycamores got by Arkansas Tech. 87-79, last night.

Baldwin-Wallace, one of the surprises of the tournament, moved with ease, 82-62 over seeded East Texas State of Commerce.

Warren Hamula netted 24 points for Baldwin-Wallace as the Berea, O., team defeated East Texas State. The Ohioans had a five-point lead at the half and roared ahead in the second period.

Notre Dame To Begin 1950 Spring Practice

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 16 —(AP)—Notre Dame's football forces, unbeaten in 38 straight games, open spring practice tomorrow, St. Patrick's day. It's an old fighting Irish custom, and 100 sturdy lads will be on hand to observe it.

With some 23 seniors departing, Coach Frank Leahy must rebuild his 1950 Irish eleven around quarterback Bob Williams. Gone from last fall's mythical national champions are such stars as end Leon Hart, tackle Jim Martin, and fullback Emil Sitko, all of them All-America picks.

Hamilton Loses Star Saturday

Open With Portsmouth Tonight At Cincinnati

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, March 16—(AP) —A seven-game program launches Ohio's 32-team high school regional basketball tournament play tonight, with both defending champions in action.

Only one Class A contest is on the slate, defending champion Hamilton's Big Blue battling at Cincinnati with the Portsmouth Trojans, 1931 Class A. kings.

That contest marks the final appearance of "Pappy" Smith, great center of the Butler County's Big Blue team, who will be 20 years old by the time Saturday's finals roll around and thus ineligible for further interscholastic play. Fans are looking for a fine duel between "Pappy" and Portsmouth's outstanding Bert Burney.

The Trojans and the Hamiltons traded victories during the season, and this one is rated as a toss-up. Hamilton takes the floor with a 20-3 record, and Portsmouth with 18-4. The Big Blue won the Cincinnati district meet, and Portsmouth the southeastern Ohio eliminations at Athens.

Springfield and Middletown, also former state champs, meet in tomorrow's other semi-final game at Cincinnati, and a dozen other Class A clubs will go into district action at the same time on three other fronts—Youngstown, Kent and Toledo.

Class B holds most of the spotlight tonight, however, with the heaviest glare on the Toledo arena where Delphos St. John's defending champ, tangles with Miller City, the only unbeaten club in the state.

The Delphos team has won 27 and lost one, while Miller City has roared over 25 straight foes. Leesville (18-3) and Troy-Luckey (20-3) meet in the other Toledo game.

The remaining Class B schedule for tonight:

At Springfield: Zanesfield (24-1) vs Marysville (23-1).

At Athens: Worthington (20-9) vs Philo (24-2).

At Youngstown: Lowellville (23-1) vs Geneva (21-2), and Norton (25-1) vs Yorkville (24-4).

Remaining semi-finals games are scheduled Friday, and all finals, in both classes, are booked for Saturday.

One team will emerge from each regional, sending four Class A and four Class B squads to Columbus March 23, 24 and 25 for the championship finals. Drawings for the finals will be made at 11 a. m. Sunday in the offices of Commissioner H. W. Emswiler in Columbus.

State Tourney Plans Will Be Made Sunday

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, March 16—(AP) —Eight of Ohio's high school basketball coaches will play a "fast break" of their own Saturday night after their teams win regional championships.

Coaches of the eight qualifiers —four in Class A, four in Class B —for next week's state championship finals must be in the office of Commissioner H. W. Emswiler at 11 a. m. Sunday.

That could mean a bit of driving, and some lost sleep, for the mentors must get their boys back home from Toledo, Youngstown, Cincinnati, etc., after Saturday's frays and then head for the state capital.

Reason for the rush is that Commissioner Emswiler wants to get the state final drawings out of the way as soon as possible. Each coach must bring with him his team's season record, and the names and numbers of 14 eligible players on his squad. The program goes to press Monday morning.

In the rules laid down by Emswiler today was an edict there would be no seeding, but that each team must take its chance in a free draw.

Class B semi-finals will be played at 2:30 and 8 p. m. Thursday, March 23. The Class A semi-finals will be played at the same hours Friday. The Class B championship game is at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, with the Class A classic at 8 p. m.

Emswiler said all seats will be reserved, with "Coliseum" seats at 75 cents, and "Arena" ducats at $1.50—if any are available to the public. Competing schools, he decreed, will be allotted any number of tickets requested, provided the request isn't unreasonable. The commissioner did not say where "unreasonableness" would start.

Teams will be allowed $1.50 per mile (one way) travel expenses, along with $2 per meal and $3 per night for lodging, for 12 players, the coach, faculty manager and student manager. Teams losing in the afternoon will be allowed evening meals, those beaten at night will get lodging and the next morn's breakfast.

Other tournament items: Only 12 of the 14 eligible players may be used by a team, and the list may not be changed between games . . . . All substitutions must be in writing . . . Teams are urged to leave nothing of value in their automobiles, and to bring their own towels . . . . The playing floor is 86 by 50 feet, with four additional feet under each basket . . . Practice sessions will be arranged at Sunday's drawing . . . Bands in uniform will be admitted free to the games played by their team . . . . Five cheerleaders may get in free, too, if they have a letter of certification from their principal . . . . Teams must file expense accounts with the commissioner, and pay all bills, before leaving town.

Ohio State University's athletic department will be host at a luncheon for coaches, faculty managers and principals (but no players) after Sunday's drawings. The competing coaches will select game officials, but the commissioner has named Timers A. B. Long of Newark and Clyde McFarland of South Zanesville, and Scorers L. N. Drake of Columbus and Gilbert Buirff of Centerville.

All games will be played in the Ohio State fairgrounds coliseum — seating capacity 6882.

Middlecoff Sweeps Seminole Tourney

PALM BEACH, Fla., March 16 —(AP)—Cary Middlecoff, professional golfer playing out of Ormond Beach, Fla., banked $2,750 today for his double victory in the 11th annual Seminole golf tournament.

The National Open champion finished the 54-hole event with a 70 yesterday for an aggregate of 207 to lead the field of 42 pros and take first money of $1,500 in that division.

He teamed with C. Douglas Dillon, New York stock broker, for a best ball score of 65 and a tie with professional Jim Ferrier of San Francisco and Leray Berdeau of Paris, France, at 128 in the 36-hole pro-amateur end of the tournament.

Finishing in a deadlock behind Middlecoff, Ferrier and their amateur partners in the pro-amateur section were Vic Ghezzi of Inwood, L. I., N. Y., and Charles Spalding of Chicago; Lawson Little of Monterey, Calif., and Richard Raese of Dover, O., and Picard and his partner, John E. McAuliffe, Sr., of New Brunswick, N. J., each of the pros received $633.33.

Local Men To Attend Conservation Confab

Ohio's fish and wildlife program will get a complete airing when the second annual conference of the Ohio Conservation Congress opens in the Southern Hotel, Columbus, Saturday. Fred Drotleff and Don Cannon of Salem will attend the session as delegates of the Salem Hunting club.

Members of sportsman and conservation clubs from all parts of Ohio will attend. Joining them in open discussions of wildlife problems will be outdoor columnists, radio commentators and magazine writers as well as officials of the Wildlife Division and the new Department of Natural Resources.

Among the speakers will be Ben East, field editor of the Outdoor Life magazine, Larry Woodell, former conservation commissioner, and others.

All talks will be followed by panel discussions and every effort will be made to answer questions that are troubling hunters, fishermen and conservationists.

FUTURE POINT—Eddie Stanky, left, gets over a point to teammates Jack Kramer, center, and Alvin Dark, as the former Boston players discuss future at Phoenix, Ariz., camp of the Giants. Second Baseman Stanky and Shortstop Dark were traded to New York from the Braves, while Pitcher Kramer was waived out of the American League from the Red Sox.

ABRAMS MENTIONED

Don Abrams, Salem High's top scorer during the past basketball season, was given honorable mention in the United Press All-Ohio selections released today. Bill Thornberry of East Liverpool was named to the second team. Henry Siefke of Lisbon and Jim Betts of Liverpool also made honorable mention.

Chick McBride and George Fisher of Columbiana, Don Stoffer of Leetonia gained mention in the Class B list.

Training Camp Briefs

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 16—(AP)—One of the New York Giants who think highly of the current revamped team is hard-hitting outfielder Bobby Thompson.

"After we hit all those home runs in 1947 and after seeing the Red Sox lose, though they seemed to have everything a club could possibly ask, I'm convinced that there is a certain intangible something needed to win," says Bobby. "Whatever it is, I have a hunch we have it around here. I believe this club will come through more often in tight spots. We can run and we have more talent than last year."

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—That blistered heel that temporarily sidelined Joe DiMaggio apparently has left no ill effects on the New York Yankees' great slugger.

Joltin' Joe got back into action yesterday in the game with the Philadelphia Phillies at Clearwater and, during the four innings he played, connected for two hits in three at-bats.

VERO BEACH, Fla. — With first baseman Gil Hodges expected to join the team today, the Brooklyn Dodgers will have all their players in tow.

Hodges' wife gave birth to a boy over the weekend. Gil wired manager Burt Shotton yesterday: "I'll be in tomorrow. Father and son doing fine."

LAKELAND, Fla.—Detroit Tiger manager Red Rolfe would like to see repeal of the March 1 spring training deadline opener. He says it is hard on pitchers.

"The pitchers need an extra week," he says. "Look at the way the batters are ahead of them this spring. The throwers just aren't ready to keep up with them."

As evidence of this, Rolfe points to his Tigers. The Bengal batsmen have collected 50 hits in four exhibition games this spring, while the Tiger pitchers have given up 46 safeties.

PLAN FIELDHOUSE TALK

Pro and con discussions on a new fieldhouse for Salem will be held at the Boosters Club meeting at 8 tonight in the Memorial building. Club President Tim Hoppes this week urged interested members to attend the meeting and take part in the discussion.

Millville, Sekely's Advance In B Play

Both Millville and Sekely's in the Class B loop won their second straight games of the league Shaughnessy playoff and advanced into the finals Wednesday night.

Millville bested Gordon Water 30-21, while Sekely's stopped Hoppes Service 30-22.

In the start of the Mickey McGuire playoff, the Baptists defeated the Trinitys 30-28 and St. Paul topped the Methodists 28-22.

Rutsky was high man for Millville, with 11 points, while Kelley paced Gordon's with eight counters.

Cope and Scullion led Sekely's to their win, each netting eight. Nocera pumped in six for Hoppes.

Duquesne Out To Stop Sizzling CCNY Cagers

NEW YORK, March 16—(AP) —Whether CCNY's rocketing sophomores can keep up their sensational surge toward the National Invitation tournament basketball title is up for decision again tonight.

Nat Holman's youngsters meet their toughest foe yet in Duquesne's Iron Dukes, out to slow City's fast break to a fizzle.

Topseeded Bradley, still the tournament favorite, plays St. John's of Brooklyn in the second semifinal. All-America Paul Unruh and stubby Gene Melchiorre give Bradley a five-point edge over St. John's.

Unseeded City College of New York rates a six-point favorite over the third-seeded Pittsburgh Dukes. CCNY reached the semifinals by defeating second-seeded Kentucky and defending champion San Francisco by wide margins.

ABC May Alter Rule On 'White' Members

MILWAUKEE, March 15 — (AP) — The Milwaukee Journal said today the American Bowling Congress' rules committee will recommend removal of the "white male" membership restriction from the ABC constitution.

The Journal said the recommendation will be made at the ABC convention in Columbus, O., May 9-13.

It was learned today, The Journal said, that the rules body met here two weeks ago and "voted to recommend that all reference to 'white' race be stricken from the constitution and by-laws."

The matter of membership eligibility, The Journal added "will be turned over to the leagues, with each league to have the power to decide whom it would accept as a member."

The ABC constitution currently restricts membership to "male Caucasians." The clause has been the object of several court cases, with one now awaiting trial in circuit court here filed by Atty. Gen. Thomas Fairchild of Wisconsin, and others pending in Illinois and New York.

Latest charge of racial discrimination was made this week by an Hawaiian-born man who said he had been barred from the Wisconsin state bowling tournament. Gov. Oscar Rennebohm's commission on human rights has promised to investigate the allegation.

Clarence Jonen, state association secretary and ABC executive director in Wisconsin, said he ordered the ouster and was "merely doing my job of seeing that everyone lives up to the rules."

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Handy and Easy Are Both Wrong
Handy Peterson and Easy Roberts got in quite an argument the other day over at Fred's Garage talking about the best spot to fish up at Green Lake.
"Opposite the old sawmill is the best spot," says Handy. But Easy "pooh-pooh's" him. "I've seen the biggest fish caught off Cedar Point," says Easy. "I've been catching them there for years."
Then Fred goes into his office and brings out the biggest mounted rainbow trout you ever saw. "Bet that was caught at the sawmill," comments Handy. "Cedar Point," says Easy. "Well," says Fred, "you're both wrong. I caught this baby right out in the middle!"
From where I sit, there are always two (or more) sides to every story. Let's live and let live in the true American tradition of toleration. Your opinion is worth a lot, but so is the other fellow's — whether it's on politics, the best fishing spots, or whether he likes a temperate glass of beer and you like buttermilk.

Columbiana Legion To Observe Founding

COLUMBIANA, March 16—Firestone Legion Post Auxiliary will have a party for the post at the Legion home Friday evening in celebration of the 31st anniversary of the institution of the post. The party will also signalize the first use of the remodeled home for a social function of the two organizations.

At its meeting Monday evening, Firestone Post voted $10 to the school lighting fund of the Grade School Mothers' Club.

The post membership committee is also planning the second "Join-the-Legion" Night at 8 p. m. Friday, March 24, when all the recreational facilities of the post home will be open to prospective members.

With the obligation of 15 new members this month, the post membership is now 196, and the aim is to pass the 200 mark. The post some time ago exceeded its quota of 163.

A Junior Legion and Auxiliary Night will be observed Saturday, March 25. A committee consisting of W. E. Warrick, Willard Hetric, Dr. J. R. Moorehead and Allen Wakefield was appointed to map plans for a school activities program at the Legion home, probably in the nature of recreation for students.

Oleo Tax Repeal Bill Signed

President Okays Bill At Key West

KEY WEST, Fla., March 16—(AP)—President Truman today signed the bill to repeal the federal tax on oleomargarine.

It was Mr. Truman's first action after his arrival here for a vacation after a sea voyage from Washington.

Charles G. Ross, presidential secretary, said the signing of the bill was done at the "winter White House." The measure was flown here by courier plane from Washington yesterday.

Under the new law all federal taxes on margarine are wiped out. But it does not interfere in any way with taxes or restrictions placed on oleomargarine by any state government.

The law does say that any restaurant selling yellow margarine must sell it in triangular pats, and the restaurant must post a notice saying margarine is sold there.

If it is sold in packages it must not weigh more than one pound, with the package clearly labeled as oleomargarine.

Earlier, Mr. Truman, his spirits buoyed by calm seas yesterday and today, was inclined to laugh off the misery of Monday and Tuesday when the presidential yacht Williamsburg unsettled stomachs and made life miserable.

Greeting reporters when his ship docked at the Key West Naval station, he described his voyage as a "fine trip."

He admitted it was "pretty rough" for a time but said the Atlantic later became "smooth as a mill pond."

"I lost four pounds," he said of the rough days, "because I couldn't eat." he laughed heartily. Reporters, viewing his bulging waistline, were inclined to be skeptical.

He even indicated he might try a sea trip here again, something Secretary Ross hinted during the height of the rough weather was unlikely..

"Do you think you'll do it again?" reporters asked.

"Yes," he said, "it was a very nice trip. I think everybody enjoyed it."

Even Ross said the "last two days made up for everything."

Major General Harry H. Vaughan, Army aide denied he was the worst sufferer.

"The President was more horizontal than I was," he kidded reporters.

Air Force Has Smallest Tube

Tiny Unit Will Reduce Plane's Load

DAYTON, March 16—(AP)—The Air Force, proud of its giant bombers, came up today with the smallest radio tube—a midget so small 10 can be stuffed into a thimble.

The tube, said engineers at nearby Wright-Patterson Air Force base, offers big advantages in weight and space. These two things are all-important in aircraft design.

One day, too, the tiny tube may be as important to civilians in the manufacture of radios, television sets, hearing aids, fire and burglar alarms and thermostats.

But, right now, the 250 "Tom Thumb" tubes built thus far have been made by hand. They are a bit expensive for a civilian purse.

"Don't expect to see any of the new devices in civilian items for some time yet," said Col. L. C. Duggar, chief of the base's components and systems laboratory. "The fieldistor is still in the process of development."

The fieldistor is just one-ninetieth the size of the present-day tube. It is about the size of a match head and about the shape of an eye-dropper end.

This tiny size enables the tube to withstand engine vibration, gunfire and landing shock which literally shakes the life from a conventional tube.

Since modern aircraft use hundreds of tubes, space and weight saved by the fieldistor, plus greater resistance to abuse, means longer aircraft ranges at reduced operating costs, engineers say.

The new tube uses so little electric current most batteries can be eliminated. or example, if you own a portable radio, you will be able to do away with all except one small battery when fieldistors come into common use.

Ellwood Broadwater, public relations head of the Salem Engineering Co., headlined a Kiwanis Club program Monday evening, arranged by Irvin Brittain.

Broadwater, a former city editor of the Canton Repository, was one of seven men who accompanied Sam Keener, Salem industrialist, on his 45,000 mile trip.

The speaker unfolded for almost an hour a rapid-fire account of the venture.

Also presented to club members was Don Eddy of New York City, staff correspondent for American Magazine.

The banquet in the High School auditorium, Monday evening in celebration of the 38th anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States was attended by 170 Girl Scouts, Brownie Scouts and mothers. A film, "International Friendship," was shown and a pantomime by a number of the girls illustrated the difference between scouting now and years ago.

Banks Present Film To High School

The film library at the Salem High School today received a new film entitled "Pay to the Order of—" which will be useful in teaching basic facts about bank checks to business students and other groups.

The film was presented to the scnool by the First National and Farmers National Banks of Salem.

"Pay to the Order of—" is a visual education aid developed by banks as a part of their general public relations program. It shows how to write a check, explains various types of endorsements, gives the reasons why checks are used, and explains what may happen to an individual check in completing a payment.

Accompanying the film is a Teachers' Manual prepared by Dr. Harold Clark of Teachers College, Columbia University, which gives teachers an outline for introducing the film and provides answers to questions that may be asked in a discussion period following its showing.

The film was obtained by the First National Bank and the Farmers National Bank from the American Bankers Association, which has undertaken production of a series of films on banking and business subjects for use in high school.

Predicts Rent Control End By June 30

COLUMBUS, March 16—(AP)—President Robert P. Gerholz of the National Association of Real Estate Boards predicted flatly today that rent controls will end June 30.

He made the forecast to newsmen while here to address Columbus real estate men and civic leaders.

Gerholz said a "tremendous" house building program in recent years eliminated the need for continuing the wartime control over rents. He said rents increased an average of only 12 percent on the 3,000,000 units decontroled. About 14,000,000 were under rent control at the peak, he said.

The federal rent control law will expire June 30 unless Congress extends or modifies it.

Hot Breads - But Good!

Do you perchance think it's a little old-fashioned to serve home-baked breads? If you do, you'd better give the idea another thought. For this is indeed the day of speed in our kitchens. The baking sections of cookbooks will be out-of-date shortly because all of our newest recipes have the note "Quick Method" attached to them.

And this is where you'd better change your mind about hot breads. The newest quick recipe is one for Raisin-Bran Muffins, the most popular bread served on many a restaurant menu. The new method could more properly be called the one-bowl method, All the ingredients go into one mixing bowl and you stir them all together at once rather than creaming sugar and shortening, beating egg and so on.

Having quick bran muffins for breakfast doesn't mean giving up much sleep. Combine the dry ingredients the night before. Mixing won't take more than five minutes in the morning. They bake while you set the table, make the coffee and so on. And a tray of these modern muffins makes a "good morning" better.

Raisin-Bran Muffins

1 c ready-to-eat bran
¾ c milk
1 c sifted flour
2½ t baking powder
½ t salt
¼ c sugar or molasses
1 egg
2 T soft shortening
½ c seedless raisins

Combine bran and milk in mixing bowl. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; add to soaked bran with sugar or molasses, egg, shortening and raisins. Stir only until combined. Fill greased muffin pans 2/3 full. Bake in pre-heated moderately hot oven (400 F.) about 25 minutes.

Yield: 9 medium muffins (2½ inches in diameter).

Pineapple Muffins

Ingredients. ¼ cup butter or margarine, ½ cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 9-ounce can (about 1 cup fruit and syrup) crushed pineapple, 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 5 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt.

Method: Mix the butter or margarine an dsugar together thoroughly, rubbing with back of spoon around sides of mixing bowl. Add egg and beat well. Stir in contents of pineapple can (including syrup). Sift in flour, baking powder and salt and stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill greased muffin cups about two-thirds full and bake in a hot (400 F.) oven 20 to 25 minutes. Makes about 12-medium-sized muffins.

Rich Drop Biscuits

Ingredients. 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ¾ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ cup butter or margarine, 1 egg, ½ cup milk.

Method: Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into medium-sized mixing bowl. Cut in butter or margarine with pastry blender or 2 knives or rub it in lightly with fingertips until it is in tiny particles. Make a well in the center and add the egg and milk. Mix briskly until ingredients are just combined. Drop onto baking sheet in very hot (450 F.) oven for 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Serve at once. Makes 10 good-sized drop biscuits.

Bran Pineapple Biscuits

½ c ready-to-eat bran
2/3 c milk
1½ c sifted flour
3 t baking powder
1 t teaspoon salt
¼ c shortening
½ c crushed pineapple, well drained
¼ c sugar
1 t cinnamon

Soak bran in milk. Sift flour, baking powder, and salt together. Cut in shortening until mixture is like coarse cornmeal. Add soaked bran, stir until dough follows fork around bowl. Turn out on floured board and knead lightly a few seconds; roll into a rectangle 8 x 11 inches and ¼ inch thick. Brush lightly with melted butter and sprinkle with mixture of sugar, cinnamon and pineapple. Roll up like jelly roll and cut in slices. Place cut side down in greased muffin pans and bake in preheated hot oven (450 F.) for about 18 minutes.

Yield: 12 biscuits.

COOKING HINTS

When you deep-fat fry foods allow the hot fat to cool before straining and storing it. This way it will be easier and safer to handle. A good way to strain the fat is to put a few folds of cheesecloth in a sieve and pour the fat through it into a container that can be covered tightly.

To make toasted bread cubes for soups, salads, or puddings, cut the crusts off the number of bread slices required, then cut again into small cubes. Place on a cookie sheet in a slow oven and toast until the cubes are golden brown on all sides, turning frequently.

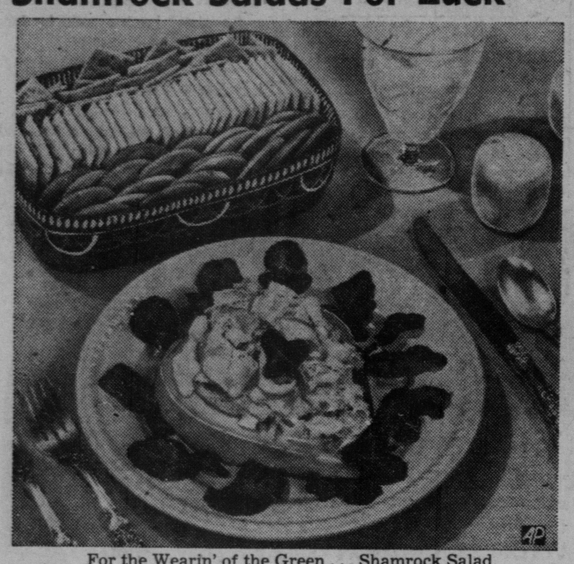
Shamrock Salads For Luck



For the Wearin' of the Green . . . Shamrock Salad

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

It's easy to let a luncheon menu for guests wear a touch of green for St. Patrick's Day. Start off, appropriately enough, with a creamy potato soup garnished with minced parsley. Go on to the salad we picture here — chicken in a ring of delicate green avocado, circled with watercress, and topped off with a good luck shamrock of green pepper.

Serve an attractive assortment of crackers with both the soup and the salad — wheat toast wafers, crisp square salted crackers, and round scalloped mouthfuls. For dessert you might perk shamrock cookies atop servings of pistachio ice cream. All for the celebration of the day—and all good eating. Here's the salad recipe.

Shamrock Salad

Ingredients: 3 cups diced cooked chicken, 1½ cups diced celery, ½ cup mayonnaise or creamy-type salad dressing, 3 tablespoons light cream, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, salt and freshly-ground pepper, dash of nutmeg, 1 medium-sized avocado, 1 green pepper, watercress.

Method. Place chicken and celery in a bowl. Mix mayonnaise or salad dressing, light cream and lemon juice; add to chicken. Add salt and pepper to taste and nutmeg; mix well. Remove seed from avocado, peel and cut into ¼-inch slices. Make a border of watercress around the salad plates. Arrange 2 slices of avocado in a circle on each plate. Fill center of circle with chicken salad. Cut green pepper into four shamrock shapes with a paring knife; garnish top of each salad with a shamrock. Makes 4 servings

And how about some Irish tea to end the meal? For the best results in making Irish tea have the water boiling, and I mean boiling. Rinse the teapot with some of the boiling water before you put the tea in. One teaspoon for each cup, and one for the pot, unless you like it stronger; I do, and often use three teaspoons for two cups. Allow the tea to steep at least five minutes, maybe six. During this steeping I sometimes take the cover off the kettle and perch the teapot over the steaming water so the tea will be steaming hot.

Fruit Salad in Green

The staging of an afternoon or evening bridge party around the middle of March will be more fun if it's done with a St. Patrick's Day theme. So, give St. Pat and the Irish their due by planning a green and white color scheme for the table settings and the food.

Good refreshments for such a party might be a molded shamrock Salad, served with crackers or finger sandwiches and plenty of hot coffee. A dessert could be included for a more elaborate table.

The shamrock salad is a colorful combination of lime gelatine, cottage cheese and pineapple. Use two shallow rectangular pans for molding the salad. Mold the pineapple-cheese mixture in one pan and a layer of plain lime gelatine in another. Chill thoroughly. To serve, cut the fruit gelatine into generous squares and arrange on lettuce. Then, with a cookie cutter, cut shamrocks from the plain green gelatine. Lift out carefully with a spatula and place one or two shamrocks on top of each square.

Shamrock Salad

PART 1

2 packages lime gelatine
4 c hot water
2 c cottage cheese, cream style
2 c crushed pineapple, drained

Dissolve gelatine in hot water. Chill until the consistency of egg whites. Fold in cheese and pineapple. Pour into shallow porcelain enameled pan approximately 12 x8x2 inches in size. Chill until firm.

PART II

1 package lime gelatine
1 c hot water
¾ c pineapple juice
Few drops green food coloring

Dissolve gelatine in hot water. Add pineapple juice and coloring. Pour into shallow enameled pan and chill until firm. To serve the salad, cut the cheese gelatine into squares. Arrange on crisp lettuce. Top with shamrocks cut from the plain green gelatine. Serve with a dressing made by folding mayonnaise and chopped nuts into whipped cream. Makes twelve servings. (The leftover gelatine may be served with whipped cream for a family dessert.)

New Waterford

Miss Sarah May Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Moore, R. D. East Palestine, and Ramon Berger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Berger, Negley, will be married Friday, March 17. Rev. John Hinerman will officiate at an "open church" service in the New Waterford Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cobbs of Akron were weekend guests of Mrs. Cobbs' parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Hawkins.

Criss Gerber, who has been ill, is slowly improving.

Clarence Oberholtzer of Madison, Ga., was a recent visitor with his mother, Mrs. Martha Oberholtzer

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rupert are the parents of a daughter born Monday, March 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rupert were guests at a birthday dinner Sunday in Columbiana, celebrating Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kridlers' birthdays.

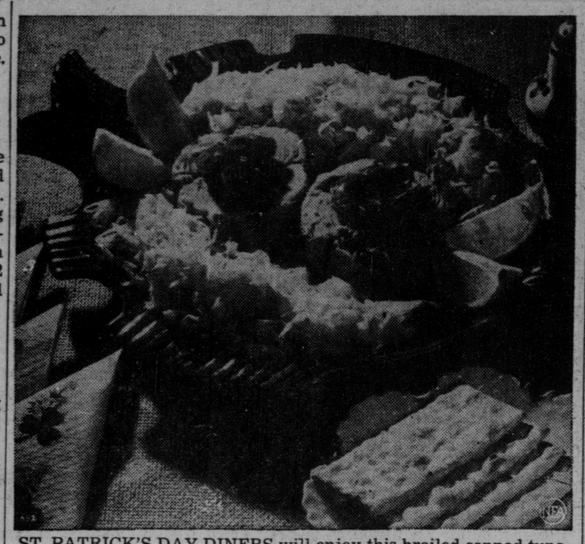
Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Esterly and Larry were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Henry and daughter of Alliance.

Word has been received by Harry Rupert of the death of his cousin, Walter Rupert of Canton.

Miss Patsy Smith of Ashburn, Ga., is a guest of Rev. and Mrs. John Hinerman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rupert were hosts to the Valley Riders Friday night. Officers elected are Claude C. Custer, president; Mrs. James Ray, vice president; Mrs. Wayne Rupert, secretary; Mrs. Claude C. Custer, treasurer; Mrs. Dale Wolfgang, reporter, and Mrs. Grace Rupert assistant.

Explosions are heard 100 miles away, while there are large areas of inaudibility much nearer the source of sound. These "zones of silence" are produced by atmospheric conditions.



ST. PATRICK'S DAY DINERS will enjoy this broiled canned tuna.

The Cookbook

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Broil Canned Tuna for Dinner

LOOKING for something to take the place of corned beef and cabbage on Friday, St. Patrick's Day? Try this—and garnish with large vivid green shamrocks cut from green peppers.

Broiled Canned Tuna
(Serves 4)

Drain oil from two cans of tuna. Place tuna as it comes from can on broiling pan. Squeeze juice of half lemon over tuna rounds. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Broil about 2 inches from source of heat until tuna is heated through, about 10 minutes. Meanwhile, cut shamrock shape from green peppers. Use to garnish broiled tuna.

Seven Minute Cabbage

Shred one pound cabbage. Put 3 tablespoons water in large frying pan. Add one-half teaspoon salt. Bring water to boil. Add cabbage. Cover and and let simmer over low heat 7 minutes. Butter and season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve immediately. Serves four.

Fish can be wonderful eating, but too many cooks ruin it by cooking it too long and in too hot an oven. Fish, like meat, is best if cooked at a low temperature. When sufficiently cooked, fish loses its transparency and flakes easily when the fibers are separated with a fork, but it is still moist and firm. It's a good rule to "cook as briefly as possible and serve promptly."

A whole fish, stuffed and baked, is one of the most attractive ways to serve fish. If you want to bake fish satisfactorily, don't bake in too hot an oven, and don't bake it too long.

To reduce these hazards use a moderate baking temperature of 375 degrees F. to 400 degrees F. Cook only until the fish flakes readily and and loses its transparency. Brush well with fat or top with a sauce, before cooking.

For broiling use split small whole fish weighing up to two pounds. Or use fish steaks, fillets or seafood such as shrimps, lobster or soft-shell crabs.

Brush the fish before broiling with a little browning glaze or fat, then season lightly. Arrange fish to be broiled on the rack in the broiling pan, or on a heatproof serving platter, and broil about 4 inches from moderate heat in pre-heated broiling compartment.

It is unnecessary to turn fish fillets and split whole fish. Remember that a sheet of aluminum foil placed under the fish will make your dish-washing simpler later.

CLOSE VA OFFICE

CLEVELAND, March 15—(AP)—The Elyria, O., Veterans Administration contact office will be closed effective April 7, the manager of the Cleveland regional VA office announces. Brig. Gen. William L. Marlin said the contact office at nearby Lorain will take over its duties.

CONFESSES ROBBERIES

CLEVELAND, March 15—(AP)—Joseph P. Gubics, 33, gave himself up to police yesterday and confessed four robberies that netted him $200. He said his conscience hadn't let him eat or sleep. Gubics was charged with armed robbery.

Our pledge to you...

LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICES ON FOODS OF HIGHEST QUALITY!

When you want a job well done, or you're looking for the Best, you go to a SPECIALIST—that's just what WE are... We are specialists when it comes to Food!

MEAT We have been selling meat for fifteen years. After ten years, we found we could not buy the kind of meat we wanted, so we purchased a farm, built a slaughter house, so we could have the kind of meat you would be pleased with the year around.

BAKERY Our bake shop has been operated most of twenty-three years. Once in that time, bakers were hard to find, and we thought we could buy Baked Goods for sale. But they did not please us or our customers, so we finally found a good baker and hope from now on we will always be able to furnish good home-baked goods to you.

GROCERY We have been in the grocery business for twenty-five years.. When we started, we probably sold the least groceries of any store in Salem . . . but in that time we believe our business has grown to be one of the largest . . . always trying to have the best at a fair price.

Fish Dishes For Lent

Salmon Puff

6 slices bread, buttered and cubed
1½ c grated American cheese
1 c flaked, cooked or canned salmon
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 c milk
1/3 c water
½ t Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste

Arrange alternate layers of bread cubes, cheese and salmon in a greased baking dish, ending with a layer of bread cubes on top. Mix remaining ingredients; pour over contents of baking dish. Bake in a slow oven (325 F.) for 1 hour. Serves 4. A 7-oz. can tuna or 1 cup shrimp or crabmeat, may be substituted for salmon.

Deviled Crab

4 T butter or margarine
4 T flour
1½ c rich milk
2 T lemon juice
¼ c water
1 t Worcestershire sauce
¼ t dry mustard
Salt to taste
Dash of cayenne
1 (6½ oz.) can crabmeat, or 1 c fresh crabmeat
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan and stir in flour; add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and smooth; continue cooking and stirring for another minute or two. Add lemon juice, water and seasonings; gently stir in crabmeat and eggs. Turn into 4 greased baking shells or individual casseroles, top each with a slice of lemon and dust generously with paprika. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375 F) for 20 minutes. Serves 4. If desired, 1 (6½ oz.) can grated tuna may replace the crabmeat in this recipe.

Tuna-Shrimp Curry

4 T butter or margarine
4 T flour
1½ t curry powder
2 c rich milk
¼ t sugar
¼ c water
Salt and onion salt to taste
1 (7 oz.) can tuna, drained and flaked
1 c cooked or canned shrimp
2 T chopped parsley

Melt butter or margarine in top of double boiler over direct heat; blend in flour and curry powder; add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and smooth. Add water, sugar, salt and onion salt, Stir in tuna, shrimp and parsley. place over boiling water, cover and cook for 20 to 30 minutes. Serve with boiled or steamed rice. Serves 4 or 5.

Baked Potatoes With Creamed Fish

Ingredients: 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 2 cups diced cooked white fish, 2 to 4 tablespoons finely diced smoked salmon (if desired), salt and freshly-ground pepper to taste, 4 large hot baked potatoes.

Method: Make white sauce of the butter or margarine, flour, and milk. Add white fish and smoked salmon (if used) and season to taste with salt and pepper. Heat thoroughly. Cut baked potatoes in half and gash each in several places; pour creamed fish over halves. Makes 4 large servings. .

Stuffed Fish Turbans

8 long fillets of fish
2 T butter or margarine
Lemon juice
½ T enriched flour
½ c top milk
½ c chopped pimiento
2 T minced parsley
½ c soft bread crumbs
½ t salt
⅛ t pepper

Trim fillets, sprinkle with lemon juice, coil around inside buttered muffin pans. Melt butter or margarine, add flour, stir until well blended; then add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Bring to boil; add bread crumbs, seasoning. Add pimiento, parsley. Fill coiled fillets with mixture, cover with buttered paper, bake 20 min. in 375 oven. Sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs; continue baking until crumbs are brown. Serves 6-8.

CALL WORKERS BACK

CLEVELAND, March 15—(AP)—The Chesapeake & Ohio Railway has called 517 more furloughed workers back to work. Of the 7,000 laid off by the coal strike, 5,104 have been taken back.

HELD IN MERCY DEATH—Harold Mohr, 36, yielding to the pleadings of his blind, cancer-ridden 55 - year - old brother Walter, killed him in his bed in their Allentown, Pa., home, police said. Held on a homicide charge, he reportedly was noncommittal when asked if recent so-called "mercy killings" had influenced him.

San Francisco's Oyster Loaf

SAN FRANCISCO is famous for many things. Many of them are more important than Oyster Loaf, but it's doubtful that any of them taste better. Californians who are proud of their technique in preparing this dish will urge you not to skimp on the butter. Following their advice, here's the way to bake an Oyster Loaf.

Fixing the Loaf

¼ lb. butter or margarine
1 loaf unsliced enriched white bread (about 1 lb., 1 oz.)

About half an hour ahead of time, take out butter to soften. When butter is spreadable, turn on oven, set at 350 F. (moderate). Cut about ½ inch off top of bread. Then, with fork, remove most of crumbs from loaf, leaving shell about 1 inch thick. Spread butter on inside of shell and on inside of top crust. Place in shallow pan, and set aside.

Now For the Oysters

1 qt. fresh or thawed frozen medium oysters (24 to 32)
3 T butter or margarine
2 t salt.
¼ t pepper
2 T minced parsley or chives

Drain oysters, reserving 1/3 cup liquid. Heat butter in skillet. Drop in oysters; then cook over meduim heat 3 min., or until barely heated, occasionally stirring and sprinkling with salt and papper. Add reserved 1/3 cup liquid; heat 1 min. longer. Stir in parsley. Pour oysters into prepared bread loaf; put on top crust. Carefully slash through top crust part way, marking off 4 to 6 slices. (Slicing will be easier at serving time.) Bake at 350 F. 15 to 20 min.—it should be lightly crisped outside, heated through.

All Set

Lemon or lime wedges.

A flavorsome top-off chili sauce, catsup, or cheese or tomato sauce.

When oyster loaf is baked, transfer it to heated platter and garnish with lemon or lime wedges. At table, "carve" loaf into slices, using markings as guide. Lift to plates with pie server. Serve with chili sauce or other flavorsome sauce. Makes 4 to 6 servings—a contrast of crunchy top crust, with plump, succulent oysters inside. How to eat it? The guests use their fingers for the toasty bread and attack the oysters with a fork.

Oyster Loaf for Two

Make individual servings, using 2 large or 4 small rolls (hamburger buns) instead of bread; reserve 2 tablespoons oyster liquid; halve each remaining ingredient. Make as above; bake 10 to 15 min.

SMALL TAKE

ALLIANCE, March 15—In Alliance today there is undoubtedly a disillusioned thief who has only $1 in pennies for his efforts.

Entering the home of Robert Robb, the thief broke a glass in the rear door, snapped the phone wires, shut off the electricity, ransacked a bedroom and left with a dollar in pennies taken from a piggy bank owned by Mr. Robb's daughter, Shirley.

FIND FROZEN MAN

ELYRIA, March 15 — (AP)—Coroner Paul Tillman said Fred Smith, 63 found dead in his home at nearby Avon yesterday, was frozen to death.

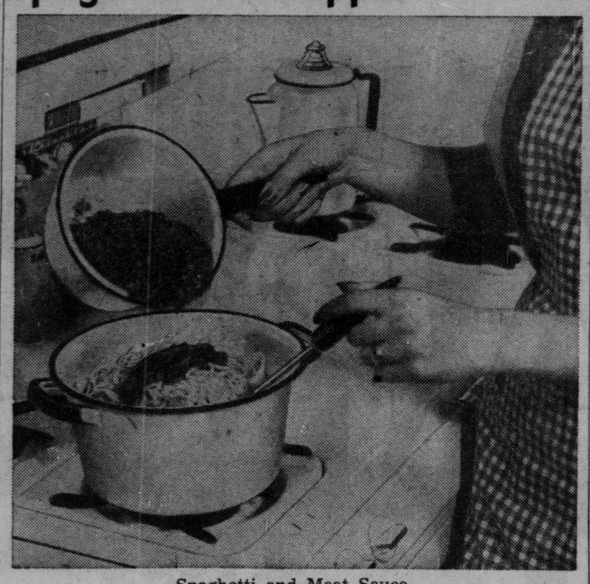
Spaghetti For Supper



Spaghetti and Meat Sauce.

Spaghetti for Supper

"IT'S THE SAUCE that makes the dish," say spaghetti lovers. A quick sauce is the answer when time is limited. But for real Italian goodness, cook the sauce from scratch—with loving care. The results are worth the time and effort.

A good meat sauce demands long, slow cooking. Start it well ahead of time or do it the day before. A large kettle allows ample room for boiling the spaghetti. Since spaghetti takes only a few minutes to cook, this should be done just before serving.

Here is a basic meat sauce recipe which can have many variations. Add individual touches of seasoning to turn out a sauce that family or guests will rave about.

Italian Meat Sauce

3 T bacon fat
¾ lb. ground beef (chuck)
¼ lb. ground lean pork
2 T olive oil (or butter)
¾ c onions, finely chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 4-ounce can mushrooms
1½ t salt ½ t pepper
1 t Worcestershire Sauce
¼ c chopped parsley

Heat bacon fat in skillet. Add ground meat and brown lightly. Meantime, heat olive oil in enameled saucepan or sauce pot. Add onions and garlic and simmer five minutes. Add browned meat and remaining ingredients. (If desired add additional seasoning, such as a dash of thyme, oregaao or marjorem.) Cover and simmer gently for about 2 hours, stirring occasionally. Uncover and continue cooking for 30 minutes. Serve immediately or store in refrigerator to be reheated just before serving. Serve over freshly cooked spaghetti or mix with spaghetti just before serving. Serve with grated Parmesan cheese. Makes 5 servings.

Macaroni Meals for Lent

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Macaroni and cheese once a week is a good idea during Lent because it's just about the most popular of all the macaroni dishes, easy to make, inexpensive and nutritious.

And here's a new idea for spaghetti. Make a savory tomato-eggplant sauce as we suggest in the following recipe.

Macaroni and Cheese

Ingredients: 1 tablespoon salt, 4 quarts boiling water, 16 ounces elbow macaroni, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, ½ pound American cheese (grated).

Method: Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook, uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan over low heat; blend in flour. Add milk and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Stir in mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Grease a 2-quart casserole; add alternate layers of macaroni and cheese, ending with the cheese. Pour white sauce over macaroni and cheese in casserole. Bake in a moderate (350 F.) oven 35-40 minutes, or until top is lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

Prague Sinatra Fans Disband, Ohioan Learns

CLEVELAND, March 16—(AP)—An Associated Press story printed in the Cleveland News has led to a transoceanic exchange of boy-to-girl mail.

The story told of Vera Bezdekova of Prague, Czechoslovakia, who organized a Frank Sinatra fan club behind the iron curtain.

Bill Haas read about her here and wrote Richard R. Kasischke, AP bureau chief, who provided Vera's address.

Haas started writing and getting replies.

"It's a little early to say what the letters and gifts will lead to," Haas said today, "but our correspondence shows promise and it looks as if we'll get along fine."

Her letters explained that since Communist authorities disapprove of "croners" and their type of music, the Prague Sinatra fans had to disband.

Fifteen years ago there was only one Sherlock Holmes society in the United States—the Baker Street Irregulars, and it languished for several years. Now almost every city in the land has a scion society. A number produce yearly books of Sherlock Holmes essays.

A DAZZLING CLEAN WASH WITHOUT RINSING

...THERE'S NOTHING LIKE TIDE!

Just wash—wring out—hang up!

WOMEN EVERYWHERE say it's the best washday news ever! They love the time and trouble and water they save by skipping the rinsing! But most of all they love the way their clothes come dazzling clean. You already know how clean Tide gets clothes with rinsing—cleaner than any other washing product known. Now try the same wonderful Tide without rinsing, and compare the results. You'll be amazed to see how bright and clean your wash comes right from the wringer. Get Procter & Gamble's Tide today. Every package of Tide on your dealer's shelf right now will give you a dazzling clean wash without rinsing!

HERE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT WASHING WITHOUT RINSING

1. Will this method really get clothes clean? Yes, Tide keeps the dirt suspended in the sudsy water. When you wring out the clothes, the dirt runs out with the washwater—clothes come from the wringer CLEAN and as bacteria-free as rinsed clothes.

2. Will clothes come white? Yes, clothes come dazzling white! Just see if you can possibly tell the difference between a rinsed, and an unrinsed Tide-washed shirt!

3. How about ironing unrinsed clothes? When you use Tide without rinsing, clothes dry soft and fluffy . . . iron easily.

4. Is this method safe for fabrics? Yes, it is safe . . . skipping the rinsing and extra wringings actually saves wear and tear on clothes.

"SAVES SO MUCH TIME ON WASHDAY!" SAYS MRS. JOY MAYO OF PORTLAND, MAINE

"No more rinsing is wonderful news for every woman who washes clothes! It's such a timesaver to take the wash right from the Tide suds, put it through the wringer, and onto the line! And everything looks so bright and clean!"

When you wash without rinsing— NO OTHER WASHING PRODUCT KNOWN WILL GET CLOTHES CLEANER THAN TIDE

Testing Of Cattle In County Completed In Most Townships

Dr. R. C. Brager of the division of Animal Industry, who is in charge of the area Brucellosis testing of cattle in Columbiana County, reports that the testing is nearly complete in most townships.

West, Hanover, Fairfield, Unity and Middleton each have approximately 25 to 35 herds that still are untested and these will be tested soon. Very few herds in other townships remain to be tested. The test is conducted with no expense to the owner.

The area Brucellosis test for Columbiana County began Feb. 1, 1948. In November of 1949, 90 per cent of the dairy and breeding cattle had been tested. therefore, according to Ohio law it became necessary for the owners of the remaining 10 percent to have their cattle tested.

Dr. Brager says that approximately 2,350 herds have now been tested since Feb. 1, 1948 and only about 175 more herds need to be tested in the entire county in order for the test to be a 100 percent test.

Dr. Brager urges any herd owner who has not had his herd of dairy or breeding cattle tested since February 1, 1948 in Columbiana County to contact his local veterinarian as soon as possible in order to bring the work to a close.

Farm Bureau To Hike Grain Terminal Space

COLUMBUS, March 16—The Ohio Farm Bureau made another move this week in its efforts to check skidding farm prices. As a specific step, the farm organization will hike the capacity of its Columbus grain terminal to three and one-quarter million bushels.

Announcement was made by John W. Sims, general manager, Farm Bureau Cooperative Association, following a long discussion by the organization's board of directors on means of halting the downward trend in farm prices.

Mr. Sims said construction will begin immediately, in order to be ready in time to handle the Ohio July wheat crop. The elevator addition, set at 1,200,000 bushels, is the second within a year for the Columbus terminal.

Last November, the Farm Bureau board gave its stamp of approval on a 1,200,000-bushel addition, which will be completed in May. With the announced new construction, the Columbus terminal will have a capacity of three and one-quarter million bushels and will become the second largest elevator in Ohio and one of the largest east of Chicago.

By easing the present grain storage problem in Ohio, the farm organization hopes that this might have a stabilizing effect on grain prices. Last year, Ohio farmers lost up to 35 cents a bushel on grain because storage facilities were inadequate.

Construction work on the elevator is being done by the Stewart Corporation, Chicago. Value of the Columbus grain terminal, when completed, is estimated at $2,000,000.

Kim Crawford Elected To Head Berry Group

Kim Crawford of Rogers was re-elected president of the Mahoning-Columbiana Berry Growers Association when the group's annual meeting was held recently.

Other officers elected are Raymond Knopp of Greenford, vice president; Howard Simplican of Rogers, secretary-treasurer; and Ralph W. Hendricks of Salem and William L. Cuthbert of Rogers, members of the executive committee.

At the meeting growers were told that the problem of finding sufficient labor to harvest their crops, which has plagued this district for the last 10 years, is a thing of the past. One authority said plenty of pickers will be available.

It was also stated that farm labor costs will be 25 percent lower than in 1949.

Hereford Association To Hold Annual Show

The seventh annual Spring Show and Sale of the Buckeye Polled Hereford Association, Inc. will be held at the Zanesville Fairgrounds March 30 and 31.

Twenty-six exhibitors from three states will parade their show cattle before Judge Herman Purdy of the Ohio State University department of animal husbandry Thursday, March 30.

On Friday morning, March 31, William H. Nolan of the Hugh Lynch Farms, Chillicothe, O,, will award championship trophies, and on Friday afternoon the auction sale of 45 pure bred animals will be conducted by Col. Jewett Fulkerson of Liberty, Mo.

A banquet will be held the evening of March 30 at the Zane Hotel, Zanesville, at which time Mr. Purdy and Don W. Chittenden, secretary of the American Polled Hereford Association, Kansas City, Mo., will be the principal speakers.

John W. Nelson, McConnelsville, O., is president of the Buckeye group sponsoring the event, and Guy H. Finley, Plainfield, O., is secretary. Hundreds of beef cattle breeders from throughout the eastern United States are expected to be present at the annual event.

FBCA Has Good Year; New Officers Named

A "good year" was reported by the Ohio Farm Bureau Cooperative Association by its treasurer, K. N. Probasco. In the annual statement, Probasco said that sales for 1949 totaled $54, 116,071, as compared with $55,500,000 in 1948.

Probasco said that unit price declines were responsible for the lower figures. More units were sold in 1949 than in any other year of the organization's history, he stated.

At a press conference, John H. Davis, executive secretary of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, told newsmen that there is no basis for the charge that cooperatives intend to take over the business of the nation. He pointed out that the rate of increase in the number of coops is declining because the price margin is narrower between the processing and retail levels.

Elam Suter of Pandora was elected to the association's board of directors. Other directors re-elected were: W. N. Woods, Maumee; Clifford Hoover, Bucyrus; Ralph Varian, East Canton; Frank Engel, Millersburg; Vern Faires, Chesterhill; Harry Guthrie, Coolville; Mrs. J. O. Maddy, Perrysburg; and Mrs. Harold Robison, Ashtabula.

John W. Sims is general manager of the Ohio organization.

NEIGHBORS LEND A HAND—Neighbors of S. J. Linn, a farmer near Nowata, Okla., make short work of Linn's oat planting. When they heard that Linn was seriously ill with cancer and that Mrs. Linn was worried about their land, 18 farmers with 15 tractors, discs and drills turned out to do the job. Here, all but two of the tractors are seen in action.

Poultrymen Urged To Vaccinate Chicks

COLUMBUS, March 16 — In communities where Newcastle disease among chicks has been reported, poultrymen should vaccinate their flocks, J. A. Shawan of the Feed Division, Ohio Farm Bureau, says.

Vaccinations should be made soon after the chicks are four weeks old, Shawan stated. He warned, however, that vaccination should not be made if any other disease in the flocks is present.

Census To Indicate Farm Mechanization

The 1950 Census of Agriculture, to be taken in the county in April will indicate the changes in the mechanization of farms. Farmers will also be asked about the number and kind of poultry on their farms.

Poultry and eggs sold and poultry raised on farms will be reported for the calendar year of 1949.

Every decade since 1840 and every five years since 1920, the Bureau of the Census has collected information about farms and farm production. More than 3.4 million farms reported poultry or poultry products sold in 1944 totaling more than $1.5 billion according to the 1945 census.

In 1945, there were 274,504 poultry farms having sales of poultry and poultry products in 1944 exceeding $770 million, or an average of $2,807 per farm.

Farmers raised 971 million chickens in 1944 which had a total value of $1,005,759,731. Chicken eggs produced on farms in 1944 amounted to 3,370,577 dozen.

The report for the 1920 census shows that the number of horses and mules including colts on farms in the United States exceeded 25 million. By 1945, the number of horses and mules including colts on farms had declined to less than 12 million.

During this same period, tractors, on farms increased from 246,000 in 1920 to 2,422,000 in 1945. Motortrucks on farms increased about 11 times to 1,490,000 in 1945.

The following table presents United States statistics for horses and mules including colts, tractors on farms, automobiles and motortrucks as reported by the censuses of agriculture since 1920.

Item	1945	1940	1930	1920
Horses and mules (including colts)	11,629	13,932	18,738	25,200
Automobiles	4,148	4,144	4,135	2,146
Motortrucks	1,490	1,047	900	139
Tractors	2,422	1,567	920	246

Ohio Milk Selling Methods Changing

A change is taking place in the intermarket movement of milk among Ohio cities, states C. G. McBride, of the department of agricultural economics and rural sociology of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station.

In some markets in 1943 and 1944, and practically all of 1945, shortages developed in the fall months, and milk distributors were compelled to obtain emergency supplies. Under these conditions which continued in 1948, markets welcomed producers coming from adjoining city milksheds.

In most Ohio markets, receipts from producers in 1949 increased by a greater amount over 1948 than did the sales of fresh milk and cream, continues the economist. The result has been that the need for adding more producers has declined or disappeared.

The larger Ohio city markets operate on what is known as the use classification or pool basis, McBride points out. Milk going into use as fresh milk and cream receives the highest classification and commands a higher price than that which is used for manufacture.

The result is a higher average price for farmers selling into city markets than for those selling to manufacturing plants in the country.

Some manufacturing plants are so located with respect to the city markets that a part or all of their receipts could be delivered to the city market, provided the producers were qualified to meet the sanitary standards of the city Board of Health.

Under the present supply and price situation, efforts are being made in several markets to meet these requirements and thus to qualify the manufacturing plant as a "pool" plant in the city markets.

OHIOAN TO HEAD GROUP

DES MOINES, Ia.—E. F. Rittenour of Piketon, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, was unanimously elected president of the Midwest Presidents and Secretaries at its meeting here.

PLOW SWEET CLOVER

If you want more corn from your allotted acres, try plowing down sweet clover. Sweet clover is the best legume catch crop that can be grown in the Cornbelt for soil improvement, according to C. J. Willard of Ohio State University, writing in Successful Farming magazine.

Grass is America's biggest crop. It covers 958 million acres, or 60 percent of the United States. Hay, next to grass, is the crop that our livestock program is based upon.

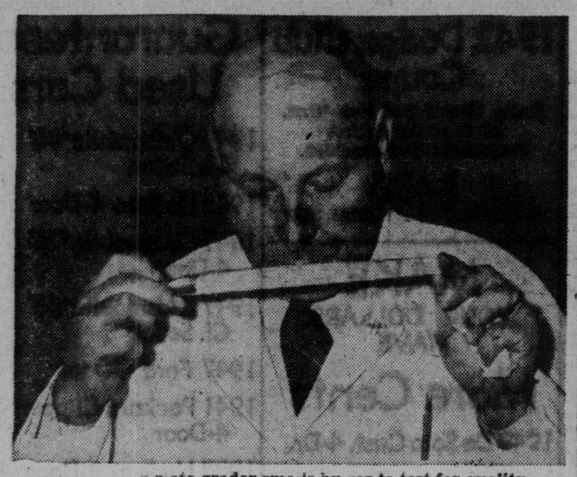
Researchers Aid Cost Of Living



A state grader smells butter to test for quality.

Coat of wrinkle-proof cotton.

Three-year-old pines. Small one is normal, other is hybrid.

EVERY YEAR, Agriculture Department research workers survey the progress made during the year in agriculture and some forms of industry and, as if striving for perfection, buckle down to produce more improvements. In their quest for ways of improving crops and dairy products in particular, these researchers actually are decreasing the cost of living by developing bigger and better vegetables and fruit and improving and checking the quality of dairy products. Their experiments with timber bring us cheaper housing. Upcoming from the Agriculture department's labs is information regarding: the best methods of buying dairy cattle, and discounting old fallacies; sturdier, tastier berries and fruits that experimenting has brought about; clothes designed to help the housewife in her shopping; lumber grown faster and cheaper through cross breeding; better, cross-bred beef.

LEGAL NOTICE

LEGAL NOTICE

Public notice is hereby given that Ohio Associated Telephone Company has filed with The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio a Supplemental Application in Case No. 20432, the prayer and substance of which seek the authority of said Commission to file and establish new general and local exchange tariffs in the State of Ohio in accordance with the schedule of rates contained in a revised Exhibit C, designated as supplemental Exhibit C and attached to said Supplemental Application, effective on a date to be ordered by the Commission. The proposed revisions will effect increases in rates and charges throughout the territory in which the Company operates.

A copy of the Application and Supplemental Application, including a copy of the revised schedules showing the proposed charges may be inspected by any interested party at the office of the Commission, New State Office Building, Columbus, Ohio, or at any business office of the Company.

Maple Syrup Output Depends On Weather

No other farm crop is as dependent upon the weather as the yield of maple syrup, comments W. R. Anderson, assistant forester at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station. An optimum yield of sweet sap is entirely dependent upon specific weather conditions during late winter and early spring.

However, contrary to popular opinion, the weather is a vital factor only during the time of "sap-run" rather than throughout the remainder of the year.

After four years of observation of weather conditions and detailed continuous temperature records in northeastern Ohio, Anderson points out that the data obtained showed that year round temperature and weather conditions, as well as frost-free period, have little or no effect on the syrup yield.

The only noticeable effect found in the records appears following growing seasons during which there was a severe drought, bad insect attacks on the foliage, or a similar catastrophe.

Maple sap runs sweetest and best during periods of warm, sunny days after clear, cold nights, dispersed with intermittent short periods of cold weather of a few days duration when plenty of moisture is available around the root system.

During this period the weather not only conditions and brings about the sap run, but also determines the speed of flow, duration of each run, and the entire length and intensity of the sugaring season. As might be expected, temperature records follow the sap runs closely from beginning to end.

Rural Areas To Get Better Phone Service

COLUMBUS, March 16—Rural Ohioans can look for better telephone service soon.

In an article on the rural phone situation in Ohio, Morris E. Allton of the legislative department of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation said "Supplying every farmer with a phone has been and is a hectic problem. At first, much confusion, ill will and misunderstanding was created.

"In some cases, telephone companies have been indifferent, deaf in the face of pleas made by patrons. And in other instances, patrons have made almost impossible demands.

"Much progress has been made, both legislatively and through the efforts of the telephone companies. There is reason to believe that most problems will be eliminated.

"Farmers have learned that the best way to obtain better telephone service is to cooperate — with one another—and with the telephone companies. As a rule, companies are anxious to receive constructive criticisms and reports of actual findings in their territories.

"That farmers should have adequate phone service is of utmost importance. Through cooperation and understanding this objective can best be obtained," he said.

Mr. Morris made an extensive study of the situation.

Health Tests Prolong Life's Span, Claim

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Individual preventive medicine can prolong life, Dr. William Harvey Perkins says. Dr. Perkins is directing a "positive health maintenance clinic" which has been operated by Jefferson Medical College since September, 1948.

The new philosophy of health examinations, developed by Dr. Perkins, stresses detailed information on a patient's habits, occupation, family history, heredity, environment, emotional stresses and disturbances and similar factors prior to a complete physical examination. The examination is designed to enable the doctor to know those who come to see him as human beings and not merely as patients, and to keep them in good health as well as cure them if necessary.

One of the difficulties, the doctor says, "is to get people to change their habits even after the probable consequences of failure to do so has been brought to their attention."

Will Summon Jurors For March 27 Court

LISBON, March 15—Judge Joel H. Sharp today instructed Clerk of Courts John W. Coleman to summon the next 50 persons whose names have been drawn from the jury wheel during the January term to report for jury duty in common pleas court Monday, March 27, at 9 a. m.

Gerald Heckathorne of East Liverpool will go to trial on that date on a charge of armed robbery and auto theft in connection with the theft of a station wagon from the home of Mike Turk in East Liverpool and the holdup of Trucker's Inn in Wellsville.

Coleman was also instructed to summon an additional list of 50 whose names have been drawn from the jury wheel for the April term of court, to report in the court here Monday, April 3, at 9 a. m., for grand and petit jury duty.

Food Price Pattern Erratic This Week

Associated Press

Food price changes followed an erratic pattern this week.

Beef, lamb, poultry and top grade eggs were a little higher than last weekend in most places.

Pork and the majority of produce items moved slightly lower.

A survey of competitive chain store prices showed few meat changes exceeding two cents a pound, either up or down. Veal was about unchanged at retail but with the wholesale market lower, consumer prices might well ease two or three cents a pound by this weekend, an Agriculture Department reporter said.

Income Tax Deadline Worries Prison Inmate

CLEVELAND, March 16—(AP)—Even a convicted slayer worried yesterday about his income taxes.

Bennie Wakley, 33, found guilty last year in the shooting of his wife, Mary, wrote the following to Ellis R. Diehm, the attorney who defended him.

"They sent me my income tax papers and I sent them in. They sent them back for they didn't have the name of my employer on them. So if you are out there soon, tell them to send me more papers with the company's name on them for I am supposed to have them in by March 15. But if it be a day or two late, I guess it will be all right."
